

Local resident rescues two from fiery inferno

Malden Firefighter Galvin Murphy, Jr. risks his life to save others - it's nothing new for him

By JAYNE W. MILLER
WILMINGTON / WOBURN - In the waning hours of Father's Day, June 19, Galvin Murphy, Jr. drove home from his shift at the Malden Fire Department heading home to his wife and four-month-old son, Connor, when he came upon an horrific accident. In moments of adversity true character is revealed. Luckily for the two occupants of the involved vehicle, Murphy is the sort of person, like most firefighters the world over, who runs toward a disaster. Murphy, like his father, Galvin, Sr., joined the Marine Corp after college, serving two tours of duty in Fallujah in 2006 and 2008. Upon returning home he took the tests and joined the Malden fire department in 2009. Galvin, Sr. is a veteran firefighter with the Cambridge FD. His son grew up hearing the stories around the kitchen table. Galvin drove home after his shift that Sunday night in the left lane of Interstate 93 North toward Wilmington, Murphy's hometown for the last year. When the driver in front of him slammed on her brakes, he was startled, until he saw the two cars on the southbound side of the highway, rolling over and coming to rest on their sides, roof-to-roof and inverted, like shoes in a shoebox.

WILMINGTON - One anonymous farmer has been left without his crops following a police seizure last Wednesday, July 13.

Someone was cultivating a large quantity of marijuana plants on a relatively secluded, wooded State-owned property located in the vicinity of 113 West Street and near Interstate 93.

Ecuador expedition

Trip of a lifetime provides perspective

By DANA BURNHAM

WILMINGTON - Readers of the Town Crier might remember that last month, an amazing group of students - and one teacher - from Wilmington High School embarked on an adventure: a trip to Ecuador, that was part hiking, camping, and touring; and part service project. Well, they're back, and the consensus is that it was, indeed, a life-changing experience.

A particular highlight of the trip, for many, was the service project at La Escuela de Ciudad de Cuenca, where the students put in a lot of work to make a difference.

Participant Bea Banda was one who thought so, saying, "The kids were amazing and the families were so appreciative. I couldn't believe how, even though they had nothing, they still helped us and made our time even more

Relay For Life supporter Cody Nilsen wins $16K Annual Scholarship

WILMINGTON - Wilmington's Cody Nilsen has been a member of The Jessica Prouty Band since he was a middle school student. Now entering college, he finds that his time in the band has helped him give back to the community and to step forward toward his dream. A repeat volunteer performer at the local American Cancer Society Relay For Life, Nilsen will attend Berklee School of Music thanks in part to his success with his band.

Nilsen was an eighth grade middle school student when The Jessica Prouty Band was formed. The group met and was inspired to form a band by their private music teacher, now producer, Brian Maes. Nilsen plays lead guitar and does vocals too.

The band is a 4-piece heavy modern rock group. Other members are Jessica Prouty, vocals and bass, Cam Pelkey, drums, and Andy Covino, keyboards. The band has come into its own as they have played professionally now for several years and have found themselves in the spotlight at major musical competitions.

Earlier this year, The Jessica Prouty Band came in second as the best teen band in the USA at the 2011 School Jam USA sponsored by the National Association of Music Merchants Show. Forty eight bands made it to the finals in the nationwide contest. The Jessica Prouty Band was one of 10 finalists who traveled to Anaheim CA and performed in Downtown Disney for the competition.

More importantly, the band was in the Radio 92.9 Berklee Battle of the High School Bands. In this competition, they competed in three semi-final rounds to become one of only eight bands to make it into the finals. As finalists, Nilsen and the other members won a $16,000 annual scholarship to the prestigious Berklee School of Music.

The Jessica Prouty Band performs at venues all over New England. And they have produced three CDs. Despite this busy schedule, they sup-

Budding artist raises money for animals

Visit her at the Farmers Market this Sunday

WILMINGTON - Josselyn Siegel doesn't remember a time when she didn't love animals. The 11-year-old currently has a dog named Olive, two birds, and a skink - that's a type of lizard, not a misspelling. Josselyn's other passion is art, whether it is drawing, painting, or sculpting. Add in a talent for salesmanship, and she's recently come up with a novel fundraising effort for the Animal Rescue League of Boston that combines her twin passions.

About five years ago, Josselyn began painting on rocks. When a Kirby salesman appeared at her home one day to try and sell her family a vacuum cleaner, Josselyn turned the tables on him and instead sold the salesman one of her rocks with a butterfly painted on it. Josselyn's mom Suzanne Siegel points out that, "it was her first sale outside the family."

Two years ago, when an uncle gave Josselyn some modeling clay, she turned to the Internet for instructions and ideas for this new medium. Soon she was creating small objects, although she says they "were not very detailed." Fast forward to

Josselyn's fifth grade year at the North Intermediate School, when she brought a few samples of her work to school to show her friends. Included in the collection

"Tires were rolling down the median. I could see brake lights coming toward me," Murphy told the Crier in an exclusive interview.

Murphy went into firefighter mode, parking his car in the breakdown lane of the northbound side and crossing over to the southbound side of the highway, to see how he could help.

An ambulance just behind the accident stopped to assist. Murphy, having taken a quick look in both cars, estimated a body count of six to eight people. Anything over six is considerate a mass casualty. The EMTs called for support from neighboring towns. According to Wilmington Police logs, the call was received at 11:24 p.m. to assist at the accident, located just before the Commerce Way exit.

When Murphy attempted to collect gloves from the back of the ambulance he saw one of the cars catch fire. Clearly, the gas line had ruptured when the vehicle rolled over. The fire was along the underside of the vehicle with flames rising two to three feet above the car.

"I didn't get the gloves, I just ran over to get the people," said Murphy, who initially had no intention of pulling anyone out of the car. But the fire escalated the situation and changed his mind.

In order to extricate the occupants, Murphy had to get in through the windshield.

The side that was up - the driver's side - was heavily damaged due to the rollover. However, the windshield was blocked by the trunk of the other car, also lying on its side. So Murphy, one of the EMTs, and a civilian onlooker rolled the other car back onto four tires in order to gain access to the windshield of the burning vehicle, now 80 percent involved with the fire.

Murphy attacked the windshield with an empty extinguisher that the second EMT had already emptied to little avail. Peeling off the shattered windshield, already partially detached due to the rollover, thick smoke billowed out and he saw one man, the driver, with cuts across his face. The EMT cut the seatbelt and the man fell into the passenger side and Murphy pulled him out and took him away from the burning car. Murphy believes the man had a broken foot and a broken arm.

The extricated driver, however, remained agitated. His father-in-law was still in the engulfed vehicle.

"All we could see were the flames from the car," said Murphy. "The grass in the median was burning, the gas tank was breached when it rolled over and we needed to move people away."

Murphy said the EMT tried to extricate the passenger out of the vehicle. The man, with multiple broken bones, including his shoulder, clavicle, arm, and ribs, was in danger of dying in the vehicle. Murphy told him he had to muster up the strength to help get out and, pulling on the broken arm, managed to drag him from the fire.

While to Murphy the elapsed time seemed long, it all happened in minutes before Wilmington police and fire responded, then Reading, and Woburn. Wilmington was the first town on the scene, arriving after Murphy pulled the two men from the vehicle, and later handed off. Lieutenant Gary Donovan of the Wilmington fire department corroborated Murphy's version of events from his experience at the scene.

The driver was transported to the Lahey Clinic and the father-in-law was transported by Wilmington ambulance to Massachusetts General Hospital, according to police logs.

Murphy had nothing but praise for the EMT who helped at the scene, though he never got the name of the ambulance company in the stress of the rescue.

"He was holding onto a bag in one hand and cutting the seatbelt with the other and the bag caught on fire. I don't know who he is, but I would never have been able to do it by myself," said Murphy.

Of the five occupants in the other car that rolled over, none were transported to the hospital.

Tewksbury man arraigned on child rape, extortion Charges

More victims may exist & public urged to contact authorities

WOBURN - A Tewksbury man was arraigned last week on numerous charges, including child rape and child pornography charges, and authorities believe there may be additional victims who have yet to come forward, Middlesex District Attorney Gerry Leone recently informed the public.

Thomas Hutchinson, 19, of Tewksbury, was arraigned in Somerville District Court on July 8 on numerous charges including child rape, child enticement, extortion by threat of injury, threats, and posing a child in a state of nudity. Somerville District Court Judge Neil Walker ordered Hutchinson held on $2,500 cash bail with the conditions that the defendant remain under house arrest and on GPS monitoring if he posts bail, have no contact with the victim, victim's family, or any witnesses, no use of

TAX RULES ON REFINANCING

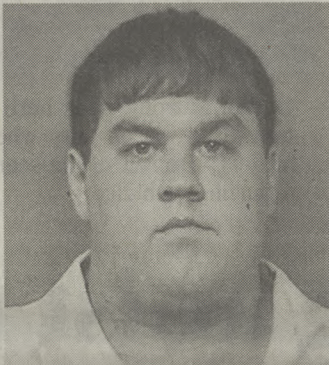

Lots of folks are refinancing these days, trying to lock in more favorable rates. There are certain tax advantages involved; don't miss them.

There are different rules for new buyers and refinancers. Buyers with new mortgages can deduct the points they paid to get the mortgage right away, even if the seller paid the points. Refinancers can also deduct the points paid, but usually over the life of the loan. (Note: a point is equal to one percent of the loan. On a $300,000, 30-year mortgage, two points paid would equal $6,000. The annual deduction for the points would be $200.)

But if they refinance again - and more than a few do - they can usually deduct all the points remaining on the previous loan in the year they pay off that mortgage - unless they work with the same lender, in which case they must deduct the remaining points over the life of the new loan.

Buying a home brings up lots of tax issues. Talk them over with the tax professionals at computers or the Internet, have no unsupervised contact with children, and he may not leave the Commonwealth.

His next court date is August 23 for a probable cause hearing.

"This is an outrageous form of cyber stratagem by a predator using the anonymity of the Internet to deceptively lure and entice young female victims with the intent to rape them. This is made all the more troubling by the fact that there exists evidence that leads us to believe that there may be additional victims of his predatory intentions who have not yet come forward," District Attorney Leone said. "We continue to aggressively investigate and prosecute serious crimes committed by offenders that target vulnerable children through the Internet, as we allege is the case here."

According to authorities, in early 2011, a 15-year-old girl was online, using a website called MyYearbook.com, where she met an individual who called herself "Brittney." "Brittney" offered to connect the victim with someone involved in modeling. The victim agreed and, shortly thereafter, an individual using the screen name Sexybeast5655@aim.com contacted her and claimed to be in the modeling industry. This individual asked how old the victim was and the victim replied that she was 15. At first, the individual asked the victim to send him pictures of her in a bathing suit and clothes and then eventually asked the victim to send him naked pictures and videos. When the victim complied, he then threatened to post those images and videos if she didn't have sex with his "friend." He additionally threatened to rape her if she refused to meet his friend in person or told police. The friend, "Tommy," who used the screen name Tommy364587@aim.com, also contacted the victim online.

It is alleged that the defendant then arranged to meet with the victim, threatening her again if she did not complete a sex act. On February 28, the defendant is alleged to have contacted the victim, pretending to be "Tommy" and told her that he was going to come see her that day. The defendant is alleged to have driven to the victim's street and, upon arrival, told the victim to get in his car, where he is alleged to have forced her to perform a sex act.

Authorities were able to identify the defendant as the individual using all three online identities: "Sexybeast," "Brittney," and "Tommy."

Medford Police executed search warrants at the defendant's home and his car and, upon searching his computer, found additional evidence, including saved photos and videos, and chats with dozens of females, many of whom appeared to be under the age of 18. Additionally, the computer contained numerous images and videos of child pornography. The investigation into the identities and exact ages of the females is ongoing.

If you think you may have been a victim of the defendant, or know someone who may have been victimized by the defendant, you are asked to call the Medford Police Department Computer Crimes Unit at 781-396-0893.

These charges are allegations, and a defendant is presumed innocent until proven guilty.

The Assistant District Attorney who is assigned to this case is Elissa Torto. The Victim Witness Advocate is Kathleen Tolle. The Child Interview Specialist is Margaret Leavitt.

The Children's Theatre Workshop will present "Godspell" this weekend, Friday July 22, and Saturday July 23, at 7:00 p.m. at the Wilmington Middle School. The cast from l-r are: (front): Julia Ferraro, Rachel Mills, Erin D'Entremont, Lauren Azevedo, and Robbie Mailey. (middle row): Nicole Tetreault, Mei-Lu Barnum, Alex LeBlanc, Jordan Ezekiel, Lizzie McDermott, Tracy Graham and Emma Goudreau. RMLD meter upgrade continues READING - Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) will continue its meter upgrade project during July in Wilmington on Crystal and March Roads, Ox Bow Drive, Brentwood, Morse and Woodside Avenues and 660 through 900 Main Street. During the upgrade, RMLD personnel will remove existing residential meters and install new ones.

Customers whose meters require replacement will experience a brief outage of five minutes during the upgrade. RMLD personnel will attempt to notify each customer by knocking on the front door of individual residences immediately before the meters are changed.

Scheduling information will be posted on the RMLD website, www.rmlld.com and in the Wilmington newspapers.

"There is a possibility that areas scheduled for replacement may be rescheduled. We thank our customers for their patience during this project," said RMLD's Engineering and Operations Manager Kevin Sullivan.

"The meters scheduled for replacement are approximately 15 years old and are reaching the end of their useful life," Sullivan added. "The new meters will improve both efficiency and reliability, and will also offer the possibility of providing enhanced energy usage information to customers. If your meter has been replaced within the past few years, it may not need to be replaced."

Please visit the RMLD website at www.rmlld.com for further details. Any questions or concerns should be directed to RMLD Customer Service at 781-944-1340 or 781-942-6598.

Harold Parker State Forest

Free canoe program

ANDOVER - Have you ever thought about taking up canoeing? Paddling lazily along on a beautiful scenic New England pond? Well you're in luck because Harold Parker State Forest is now offering a free canoe program sponsored by the Department of Conservation and Recreation.

The park's interpreter, Bob Anderson, will instruct participants on the basics of canoe handling and water safety and lead a guided paddle around one of Harold Parker's picturesque ponds.

Canoes are provided by DCR however, it is recommended that you bring sunscreen, insect repellent, water, a camera and your own life vest if you have one, otherwise one will be provided.

Each program session is limited to 16 adults over the age of 18 and a mandatory pre-registration is required by calling (978)475-7972.

The program runs from Saturday, July 16 - 31, 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. and will meet at Lorraine Campground at 133 Jenkins Road in Andover.

Summer Social at the library

The Dave Rasmussen Boiler Room Sextet

WILMINGTON - Join your friends and neighbors for a Summer Social featuring the Dave Rasmussen Boiler Room Sextet jazz ensemble on Friday, August 19, at 7:00 p.m. The ensemble will entertain guests with an hour long concert followed by a social hour with food and drink. Tickets go on sale Monday, July 25, $10 each. Attendance is limited to those over the age of 21. The library will use this opportunity to show off its new logo and new tagline, which is Community Starts Here.

The Boiler Room Sextet features bandleader Dave Rasmussen on alto sax, Marty Schwartz on trumpet and Brent Beech on tenor sax in the front line and a cookin' rhythm section with Dale Hubbard on keyboard, Wilmington's own Ralph Pepe on upright bass and Eben Hearn on drums. The group's songbook includes music of the jazz giants Miles Davis, Phil Woods, Duke Ellington, and Clifford Brown; jazz interpretations from the American Songbook from such composers as Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, Rodgers & Hart and George Gershwin - plus Latin rhythms from composers, Antonio Carlos Jobim and Roberto Menescal as well as some jazz funk from Freddie Hubbard's songbook. The group also plays several original compositions from director, Dave Rasmussen's own musical pen.

Tickets to this event are limited so be sure to buy early so you don't miss out.

By Meghan Ryan
Being a part of WCTV for six years, I've done quite a few interviews. I've met a lot of fantastic people and have had many experiences that I never would have had I not been a part of this great organization.

Interviewing Senator Scott Brown during Wilmington's Fun on the Fourth activities was one of those truly unforgettable experiences.

The 3rd of July looked as if it would be a washout. WCTV Staff Don Leard, Ron Buccheri, and I arrived a few hours before the senator's arrival, and had been interviewing people under the safety of an umbrella. Though people occasionally commented that the forecast predicted that the rain would leave in a matter of minutes, the ominous clouds overhead suggested otherwise.

The joke for the rest of the day was that Scott Brown had brought the sunshine with him. Around the time his car pulled up, the clouds retreated. Senator Brown and his wife, Gail Huff, arrived in Wilmington and walked across the common under sunny skies.

After Town Manager Michael Cairra welcomed the senator, I moved in closer, microphone outstretched. "Would you mind if I asked you a few questions for WCTV?" I asked.

He nodded, smiling as if he expected this all along, to my relief. WCTV had sent word ahead that we would be at the event, but I hadn't been sure whether or not he would agree to an interview.

"Sure thing," he said. "Now who would you be?"

Out of the corner of my eye, I saw the camera move into position. "Meghan Ryan," I replied. "From WCTV."

"And how old are you?" he asked. "Are you in school?"

I was starting to get nervous now. He was interviewing me, when I was supposed to be interviewing him!

"Wilmington shows a lot of spirit during the 4th of July season," he said. "Any town that has a building dedicated to the 4th is doing it right!"

After a laugh, I continued. "Besides coming to Wilmington do you have any

His face somber, the senator replied, "All of the men and women who have served this nation inspire me. Anyone who serves this country and makes the ultimate sacrifice, they are the true heroes of this nation."

WCTV's Meghan Ryan interviewing Senator Scott Brown during Wilmington's Fun on the Fourth festivities.

"I'm 19," I answered. "And I'm going to school at Bentley University."

"Bentley University?" he repeated. "That's where my wife went!"

I turned to a smiling Ms. Huff. "It's a great school," I said, and she nodded her agreement.

With the cameras and equipment set up, we started shooting. "So what brings you to Wilmington?" I asked.

The Senator grinned as he started to explain why he chose Wilmington to celebrate the 3rd of July.

other 4th events/traditions you'll be taking part in?"

"Mainly barbeques and spending time with my family," the Senator smiled at his wife. "My daughter, Ayla, is performing this weekend at Riverfront Park and we're supporting her in that."

I sensed I was taking up his time, so I launched into my final question. "Of course during Independence day we're celebrating the heroes who've brought our country into existence. Do you have any heroes who have inspired you?"

We thanked each other soon after and said our goodbyes. The 3rd of July was an action-packed day, and I can't thank the people who helped with WCTV's coverage enough. To all of the people who put the event together, who agreed to be interviewed, and who worked on the project itself, I extend my sincere thanks. Thanks to you, Wilmington residents can look forward to our coverage of the Fun on the Fourth activities, coming soon to WCTV.

Patrick-Murray administration designates 21 new "Green Communities" across the Commonwealth

BOSTON — The Patrick-Murray Administration Tuesday named 21 cities and towns from western Massachusetts to Cape Cod as "Green Communities," making these communities eligible for over $3.7 million in grants for local renewable power and energy efficiency projects that will advance both municipal and state clean energy goals.

Ayer, Bedford, Brookline, Buckland, Carlisle, Deerfield, Granby, Holland, Mendon, Middlefield, Millbury, Monson, Revere, Sherborn, Shutesbury, Somerville, Sutton, Tewksbury, Topsfield, Truro, and Woburn join 53 other cities and towns named in previous rounds of Green Communities designations - bringing the total number of official Green Communities to 74.

"We are making real progress in achieving a clean energy future for the Commonwealth, one community at a time," said Governor Deval Patrick. "These investments encourage energy savings, create jobs and protect our environment - boosting our economy and improving our quality of life."

"Our Administration is proud to partner with cities and towns as we continue to promote clean energy initiatives across the Commonwealth," said Lieutenant Governor Timothy Murray. "These newly designated Green Communities will join 53 other municipalities that are moving forward with renewable and efficient energy projects to help build a more sustainable and healthier environment for Massachusetts."

The Department of Energy Resources' (DOER) Green Communities Designation and Grant Program, which is a result of the Green Communities Act signed by Governor Patrick in 2008, uses funding from auctions of carbon emissions permits under the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative to reward communities that win Green Communities designation by meeting five clean energy benchmarks:

- Adopting local zoning bylaw or ordinance that allows "as-of-right siting" for renewable and/or alternative energy R & D facilities, manufacturing facilities or generation units;
- Adopting an expedited permitting process related to the as-of-right facilities;
- Establishing a municipal energy use baseline and a program to reduce use by 20 percent within five years;

- Purchasing only fuel-efficient vehicles for municipal use, whenever such vehicles are commercially available and practicable; and
- Requiring all new residential construction over 3,000 square feet and all new commercial and industrial real estate construction to reduce lifecycle energy costs (i.e., adoption of an energy-saving building "stretch code").

"This program rewards cities and towns that face their energy challenges by adopting green energy practices, which reduce energy costs for municipal residents and create sustainable energy solutions for municipal operations," said Energy and Environmental Affairs Secretary Richard K. Sullivan Jr.

June 10, 2011 was the deadline for municipalities to apply for Green Community designation in order to qualify for approximately $3.7 million in Green Communities grants. Communities designated today have until August 19, 2011 to submit applications for grants that will be awarded later this year.

"These projects serve as examples of smart energy use and renewable energy practices in communities across the Commonwealth - from installing solar arrays and energy efficient lighting in municipal buildings to purchasing hybrid vehicles for municipal fleets," DOER Commissioner Mark Sylvia said.

Using a formula that caps awards at $1 million and provides each community with a $125,000 base grant - plus additional amounts based on per capita income and population, and for municipalities that meet Green Communities Criterion 1 for energy generation, DOER notified the selected communities of their eligibility for the following funding:

Ayer $151,175
Bedford $148,150
Brookline $215,050
Buckland $134,150
Carlisle $139,300
Deerfield $142,950
Granby $144,125
Holland $143,250
Mendon $145,925
Middlefield $138,025

Millbury $167,025
Monson $165,975
Revere $366,600
Sherborn $137,450
Shutesbury $142,275
Somerville $362,175
Sutton $143,050
Tewksbury $207,725
Topsfield $132,975
Truro $141,200
Woburn $231,925

In addition to grant eligibility, each Green Community designated today will also receive a certificate from the Commonwealth, four road signs identifying it as an official Green Community, and at least one Big Belly solar trash compactor for municipal use.

Wilmington

To the gentleman (ahem...) at the Planning Board Meeting on Tuesday, July 12, who took up 95% of the time allowed for questions (forcing a continuation meeting in Sept), I'm glad you got the chance to tell us all, repeatedly, about your concerns about "your lifestyle." However, due to your love of hearing your own voice, it's a real shame you left no time for the others who attended to voice questions about THEIR equally important concerns. But that's OK, as long as YOUR agenda was met. We'll just all have to return for a second meeting in September. Please stay home for that one so some useful work can get done? Thanks, buddy.

Walk of Hope to benefit ALS

WAKEFIELD - The tenth annual Walk of Hope for ALS, a 3.5-mile walk around Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield to benefit The Angel Fund, will be held on Saturday, September 10, 2011, with a rain date of Sunday, September 11. The event begins with registration at 9:00 a.m. followed by the start of the walk at 11:00 a.m.

The Angel Fund is an independent, nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) research at the Cecil B. Day Laboratory for Neuromuscular Research at UMass Medical Center in Worcester. ALS, more commonly known as Lou Gehrig's Disease, is a progressive, always fatal neuromuscular disease which leads to muscle weakness and as it progresses, results in total paralysis and the inability to speak and swallow while the mind and senses remain intact.

Walkers of all abilities are encouraged to participate as individuals or as a team. To register as a walker or to register a team, please call The Angel Fund at 781-245-7070, or log on to the organization's website at www.theangelfund.org.

Donations to the Angel Fund can also be made online, or can be sent to The Angel Fund, 649 Main Street, Wakefield, MA 01880. All donations should be made payable to The Angel Fund. To assist its walkers, The Angel Fund has joined FirstGiving.com which enables them to create their own webpage to raise money online. Registered walkers can create their page at www.firstgiving.com/angelfund.

In addition to the walk around Lake Quannapowitt, the event includes children's activities and refreshments for all walkers.

There are several levels of corporate sponsorship for the Walk of Hope for ALS. Several local businesses and groups have already pledged their support as sponsors of the Walk, including major sponsors the Law Office of Nigro, Pettepit and Lucas; The J Group benefiting ALS research; and Worcester Magazine.

Information about sponsorship opportunities can also be obtained on the website, www.theangelfund.org, or by calling 781-245-7070.

The Angel Fund conducts other fund raising events throughout the year which, along with individual and corporate donations, have been beneficial in helping make significant strides in ALS research. For a list of upcoming events, visit The Angel Fund website, www.theangelfund.org.

Tops In Blue

Air Force's entertainment showcase comes to Wilmington

HANSCOM AFB - Get ready for a fantastic night of free entertainment. Tops In Blue, the premier entertainment showcase of the U. S. Air Force comes to Wilmington on August 10 at 7:00 p.m. at the Shriner's Auditorium for one performance only!

Admission is free. Tickets are not required. Seating is on a first come - first serve basis.

In this year's show, Tops In Blue 2011 drums up their own rhythm; audiences will be tapping their feet to pulsating music from great performers like the jazz of Nat King Cole and Billie Holiday, the great rock 'n' roll sounds of Little Richard and Jerry Lee Lewis, the cool Motown R&B of Marvin Gaye and Tammi Terrell, hits by J-Lo and Michael Franti, some inspirational country sounds and much, much more! No Tops In Blue show would be complete without famous patriotic music, as they pay tribute to the heroes of September 11, 2001 as we recognize their sacrifices ten years later.

"Tops In Blue is the Air Force's premier entertainment showcase," said Tom Edwards, show producer and chief of Air Force Entertainment. "The new 2011 team is a reflection of the 'best of the best' performers throughout the Air Force."

Tops In Blue '11 keeps more than 57 years of touring tradition by visiting all bases throughout the United States and more than 25 foreign countries. Their aggressive tour schedule spans more than 125 locations and also includes entertaining forward-deployed troops in various locations in Iraq, Qatar, Afghanistan and Kuwait.

The Tops In Blue '11 Tour is proud to be sponsored by Coca-Cola. This is Coca-Cola's seventh year of financial support.

This year's Tops In Blue team is indeed a reflection of the "Best of the Best." Like never before, this group of talented and dynamic Air Force members displays the pride, patriotism and dedication felt by all Air Force personnel around the world. The show is guaranteed to energize hearts and souls and remind each of us that we stand proudly for America, its people and its music. Don't miss this powerful and unforgettable show!

Tickets are not required. For more information, contact the Hanscom Air Force Base Force Support Squadron at 781-377-8643 or visit www.topsinblue.com. No federal endorsement of sponsors is intended.

OBITUARIES

Richard E. Adams, Sr.

Lived a rich and varied life, from farmer to lobsterman to undercover detective

NO. BILLERICA - Richard E. Adams, Sr., age 83, of North Billerica, formerly of Wilmington, Marblehead, and Newburyport, died peacefully on Monday, July 18, 2011 at the Lahey Clinic in Burlington.

Richard was born on March 12, 1928, in Salem, the beloved son of Beatrice W. Adams, he was raised and educated in Marblehead.

In his early years, Richard worked at many local farms and was an avid vegetable gardener. Richard learned to can his fruits and vegetables, sharing them with family and friends. He entered many of the Topsfield Fairs over the years during the 60's and 70's and won various competitions for the "biggest" blue Hubbard and butternut squash as well as some of the largest pumpkins.

Richard was a Korean War Veteran serving from 1951 to 1955.

Richard was also a dutch rabbit breeder and fur trapper, he sold many minks, muskrats, and chinchilla's to Fox's in Boston.

Always a hard worker, Richard even worked on local lobster boats throughout Marblehead when he was in his late teens and early twenties and even helped out the local undertaker at Tom Sullivan's Funeral Home in Marblehead.

Richard married Josephine N. (Cavarretta) Adams on April 18, 1953, soon after the couple moved to Malden, where they started a family. Richard worked at that time as an undercover detective in South Station in Boston from 1950-1957. Richard was also very involved with the CYO Band at the Immaculate Conception Church in Everett where his children participated and he was in charge of the band equipment.

Always a farmer at heart, Richard moved back to the North Shore with his young family and they settled in Newburyport, where he returned to farming and raising rabbits. Richard would deliver his fresh, locally grown vegetables to local stores such as A&P

Supermarket, Mr. Grocer, and Market Basket, just to name a few. Richard was a huge animal lover, he also loved being outdoors and enjoying the wildlife that surrounded him. After his children were grown, Richard and Josephine moved to Wilmington in 1978, they had a wonderful life together, shared over 29 years of marriage, and made many memories for their family before Josephine's passing in 1982.

Richard was a very kind and caring man, he was very much devoted to his family and friends and would do anything for anyone. He had a wonderful sense of humor and loved to have a good time, his personality traits made others drawn to him.

Richard met Linda (Cole) Adams in the late 1980's and they had a great companionship together. Richard and Linda married in 1998 after a long courtship, they had many fun times together and blended their families. Richard and Linda enjoyed each other's company and were only married for a couple of short years before she passed in 2000.

Richard will be fondly remembered for his continued strength, he was diagnosed with pulmonary disease a few years ago and fought hard to stay alive for his family. He enjoyed their many celebrations and he was very proud of all of their accomplishments. Richard loved his family and being part of a big extended family, he will be greatly missed.

Richard was the devoted father of Janis (Adams) Marshall-Colby and her husband Arthur "Skip" Colby of York, ME, Susan (Adams) Pike and her husband Thomas of Lee, NH, and the late Richard E. Daniel D. Bicknell

Formerly of Wilmington; worked for Pasco County School Systems in Florida

HUDSON, FL - Daniel D. Bicknell, age 55, of Hudson, Florida, formerly of Wilmington, MA, died peacefully with his family at his side on July 3, 2011 in Hudson, FL, following a brief and courageous battle with cancer.

Danny was born on August 14, 1955 in Stoneham, MA, he was the beloved son of the late Douglas and June (Berry) Bicknell. Danny grew up in Wilmington and graduated from Wilmington High School Class of 1973. He was one of six siblings and grew up in a tight knit family, he really enjoyed the many gatherings and family celebrations over the years.

Danny married Lori McNabb in 1979, the couple moved to Florida in 1986, where they made their home and raised three wonderful children. Danny was employed in the construction department of the Pasco County School Systems for many years. He was also a talented wood worker, who loved special projects such as making his granddaughters toy chests and rocking chairs.

Danny was a "home body", he loved to hang out in his garage with his television and watch New England Sports teams and was a huge hockey fan. Danny looked forward to the many golf outings he had with his brothers and he enjoyed visiting his daughter Jacqui in Boca Raton. Danny had a softer side to him, he loved being "Pop Pop" to his granddaughters Taylor and Maggie, they had him wrapped around their little fingers from day one. He was also a very talented writer, composing many poems to his family and friends.

Danny will be fondly remembered as a devoted family man who loved his home, he was generous and always thinking of others, he took special care of those he loved especially his mother-in-law Liz.

Danny Beloved husband of Lori J. (McNabb) Bicknell, devoted father of Dr. Jacquelyn Wolf and her husband James of Boca Raton, FL, Jesse Bicknell and Aaron Bicknell both of Hudson, FL, loving "Pop Pop" of Taylor Bicknell and Maggie Wolf, dear brother of Kathleen Mele & her husband Robert, Raymond Bicknell & his wife Catherine McDonald-Bicknell, Beverly McGovern & her husband Paul all of Methuen, Douglas Bicknell & his wife Allison of Tampa, FL, and Judith Arrington & her husband Jace of Stoneham, son-in-law of Elizabeth McNabb and the late William McNabb of Wilmington, brother-in-law of Bob & Sue McNabb, Billy McNabb, and the late Donna Peddle. Danny is also survived by many nieces, nephews, and dear friends.

Family and friends will gather for Visiting Hours on Saturday, July 23rd from 12:00 - 2:00 p.m. at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington. Memorial donations in Danny's name may be made to a Hospice of your choice.

WOBURN/WILMINGTON - Wilmington Firefighters extinguish a car fire on Rte 93S underneath the Commerce Way Interchange (Exit 37C) around 5:00 p.m. on Sunday. Woburn was also called on this fire, which occurred right on line separating Wilmington, Woburn, and Reading. There were no injuries, but traffic returning from the north after a beautiful summer weekend was greatly impacted.

Tewksbury Library Notes

"Law & Order: Boston"

Upcoming events at the Tewksbury Public Library include the following:

Must-See Movie Night: On Tuesday, July 26 at 5:45 p.m., attend a screening of one of Hollywood's latest DVD releases - "The Lincoln Lawyer" (R, 119 minutes). Starring Matthew McConaughey, Marisa Tomei, and Ryan Phillippe, this legal drama is based on the Michael Connelly book with the same name. Mick Haller - a slick, charismatic Los Angeles criminal defense attorney who operates out of the back of his Lincoln Continental sedan - unexpectedly lands the case of a lifetime defending a rich Beverly Hills playboy who is accused of attempted murder. What initially appears to be a straightforward case with a big money pay-off swiftly develops into a deadly match between two masters of manipulation and a crisis of conscience for Haller. Free popcorn and lemonade will be served. Co-sponsored by the Tewksbury Lions Club.

Boston Law & Order: On Wednesday, July 27 at 6:30 p.m., join David Kruh - local historian and author - for an evening of Law & Order, Boston-style. In this slideshow, Kruh brings Law & Order to Boston by looking at three high-profile cases from three eras of the city's history: The Boston Massacre, The Parkman Murder, and the Boston Strangler. Together, Kruh and the audience will look at each crime, follow the investigation, and wind up in court, where they'll argue the case and hear the verdict.

Exploring Pleasure Island: On Wednesday, August 3 at 6:30 p.m., join Robert McLaughlin - Co-founder of "The Friends of Pleasure Island" and author of "Images of America: Pleasure Island" - to remember (or discover) Pleasure Island. Pleasure Island, which opened in June 1959, rose from the wetlands off of Route 128 and into an 80-acre theme park ("The Disneyland of the East"). Through photographs and music, McLaughlin will recall memories of riding boats to Pirate Cove; searching for the great white whale; driving a Jenney car; getting dizzy in the Slanty Shanty; and taking a ride on Old Smoky.

Exploring Boston Harbor: On Wednesday, August 10 at 6:30 p.m., join John Galluzzo - public program coordinator for the Massachusetts Audubon Society and co-author of "Boston Harbor: Postcard History Series" - to learn about the Boston Harbor. Take a trip with John around the harbor to survey postcards of its yacht clubs, islands, forts, steamboats, beaches and much more in this presentation based on the book of the same name.

Exploring Salem: On Wednesday, August 17 at 6:30 p.m., join Jim McAllister - Salem historian, author and founder of Derby Square Tours - for an armchair tour of Salem, Massachusetts, one of America's most fascinating and historic cities. The audience will be treated to an audiovisual presentation that features nearly 250 slides, many of which have appeared in the New York Times, and other national publications including Money, Tour and Resorts, and Americana magazines.

Registration is strongly recommended for library events as it aids presenters and staff with planning. (No registration needed for Movie Nights.) Register by stopping by the Reference Desk, calling 978-640-4490 ext. 207, or by visiting the library's online calendar of events (<http://www.tewksburypl.org>). Refreshments will be provided. Door prizes will be awarded. Events are FREE thanks to the generosity of the Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library. The Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library's Friendly Little Bookshop will be open prior to all Wednesday night events.

UniFirst Celebrates 10th Annual Founder's Day

Marks 75 years in business and announces Employee of the Year

WILMINGTON - Wearing special commemorative tee-shirts, approximately 300 employees at UniFirst Corporation celebrated the company's 10th Annual Founder's Day at the corporate offices in Wilmington on July 15.

Founder's Day honors the memory of the late Aldo

Croatti, who started the company on July 12, 1936; it is held on the Friday closest to that historic date each year and has been an annual event at all company locations in the U.S. and Canada since Mr. Croatti's passing in 2001. This year's Founder's Day also marked UniFirst's 75th year in business.

In acknowledging the dual celebrations, UniFirst President and CEO, Ronald Croatti, said, "Being in business for three-quarters of a century underscores the fact that our founding business principles and values - which all revolve around providing total customer satisfaction - are right on target. I'd like thank all of our 10,000 employee Team Partners throughout the U.S. and Canada for following those principles and values; it's the key reason why UniFirst is widely recognized as a leader in the textile services industry."

2011 Employee of the Year Named

During the Founder's Day celebrations, UniFirst announced its 2011 Employee of the Year. Those selected for the honor are deemed as most exemplifying the Company's customer-centric principles and values. The honor this year was awarded to Leslie Rogers, an Inventory Analyst in the Materials Management Department.

As Employee of the Year, Rogers was presented special recognition gifts and her name was engraved on a plaque that will be on permanent display at the corporate offices. Rogers resides in North Reading with her husband Carl. She has worked at UniFirst for nearly 37 years.

UniFirst, which has facilities at more than 200 locations throughout the U.S. and Canada, is a leading supplier of uniforms and work apparel to a wide range of industries. More than one million people wear the company's apparel to work every business day.

Leslie Rogers (center) of North Reading was named the UniFirst's Employee of the Year during an annual Founder's Day cookout. Presenting Leslie with the award was Cynthia Croatti (left), Executive Vice President; and Ronald Croatti, President and CEO.

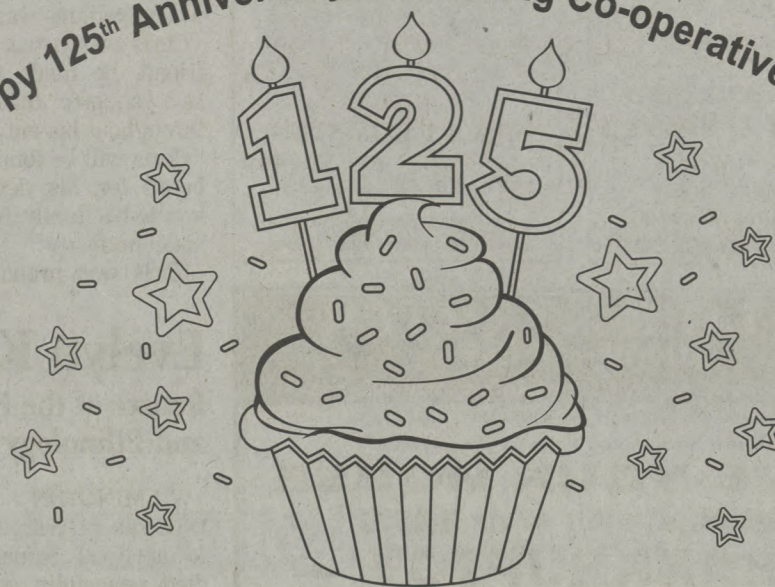

As part of its annual Founder's Day celebrations, UniFirst employees in Wilmington were treated to a cookout under a big tent that was set up in the company's parking lot.

OBITUARIES

Christopher Robert Crosby

Serving with U.S. Army in Alaska

WILMINGTON - U. S. Army Specialist Christopher Robert Crosby, age 23, of Wilmington, died unexpectedly on July 18, 2011 at Fort Richardson Army Base in Anchorage, Alaska.

Chris was born on May 10, 1988 in Winchester, MA, he was the cherished only son of Robert L. and Donna M. (Ricci) Crosby of Wilmington. Chris grew up in Wilmington and was educated in the school system, graduating from Wilmington High School with the Class of 2006. Chris was also an avid athlete, playing soccer from kindergarten with the Wilmington Youth Soccer program right through high school as a member of the Wilmington Wildcats Soccer Team. Chris also was a member of the Wilmington High School Spring and Winter track teams for all four years of High School.

Chris went on to further his education at Worcester State College and enlisted in the United States Army in 2008. Chris loved being in the Army, he excelled in Special Forces training, and felt that he had found his purpose and calling in life.

Chris had a wonderful personality and people were drawn to him, he had a great sense of humor and was always joking around with his family and friends.

Chris loved his family unconditionally, he enjoyed family holidays and their many family trips to Disney World in Florida. He was proud of his Italian/Irish Heritage and loved a good corned beef and cabbage dinner. Chris also had a large extended family and was especially close to his many aunts, uncles, and cousins - they always had a great time when everyone was together.

Chris was a true and loyal friend, he made friendships as a youngster that would last throughout his entire life.

Chris will be fondly remembered for his devotion and love to his family, friends, and his country.

Chris was proud to be an American who unselfishly gave of himself to the country, and he should be commended for his efforts. He was a wonderful son, brother, grandson, nephew, cousin, and friend who will be missed more than words can say.

Besides his parents, Chris is survived by his two sisters who loved him dearly Kelly C. Crosby and Kristin M. Crosby both of Wilmington, he was the beloved grandson of Louis and the late Mary Lou (Visconti) Ricci, Robert and Dorothy Crosby all of Reading, and his great-grandmother Mary Ricci of East Boston, Chris is further survived by many aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

As of press time funeral arrangements have not been completed. Arrangements will be under the direction of the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington.

Please contact the funeral home at 978-658-4744, or visit the website: www.nicholsfuneralhome.com for further information.

Memorial donations in Chris' name may be made to Local Heroes, Inc., P. O. Box 536, Wilmington, MA 01887.

Max V. Freuchet

Manager at Advanced Auto Parts in Tewksbury

WILMINGTON - Max V. Freuchet, age 54, of Wilmington, died unexpectedly at home on Sunday, July 17, 2011. Max was the cherished son of Max L. and the late Mary V. (Burke) Freuchet of Wilmington, cousin of Verna Dennis and her husband Harvie of Ontario, David, Peggy, Sandy and John MacFarlane of Prince Edward Island, he was also very dear to Katherine Freuchet of West Roxbury and Maureen McDonald of Wilmington, as well as many relatives and friends who survive him.

Visiting hours will be held at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington, on Friday, July 22nd from 6-8 p.m.

Memorial donations in Max's name may be made to a Hospice of your choice. Max was a former manager at Advanced Auto Parts in Tewksbury.

Louise M. Gage

Devoted wife and mother

WILMINGTON - Louise M. (Tomeo) Gage, age 93, of Wilmington, died peacefully on July 14, 2011, surrounded by her loving family. Louise was born in Medford, MA, on April 4, 1918, she was the cherished daughter of the late Alfred R. and Angela (Cuneo) Tomeo. Louise was raised and educated in Revere, MA.

Louise met Louis E. ("Gene") Gage, an Army Lt from Texas during World War II and were married in May of 1943. Louise and Gene traveled to various duty stations during his enlistment and when Gene was honorably discharged from the Army the couple settled in Woburn for several years before moving to Wilmington in 1951. Louise and Gene had a great life together; they raised a beautiful family, and made many wonderful memories over the years with their family and friends. Together the couple celebrated over 53 years of marriage before his passing in 1996.

Louise was a devoted wife and mother, she loved to cook for her family and cared for them unconditionally, she devoted much of her life to her son Richard who is blind and helped him to overcome his handicap in many ways. Louise also cherished being a grandmother and great-grandmother, she loved to have fun with the kids and was very proud of all their accomplishments.

Louise was an avid sports fan, following the Bruins, Red Sox and Patriots to many away games, she knew more about the sports, players, and their statistics than most, people were always amazed by her knowledge.

Louise will be fondly remembered for her kind and caring ways, her helpful nature, and her love for those around her, she was truly a wonderful lady who will be greatly missed.

Louise was the beloved wife of the late Louis E. Gage, devoted mother of Robert V. Gage and his late wife Marilyn, Richard E. Gage, Jeanne L. Kane and her husband Paul, all of Wilmington and the late William A. Gage, loving "Mimi" of Brian Kane and his wife Michelle, Andrea MacGilvray and her husband Paul, Jennifer Kane all of Wilmington, Angela Nimblett and her husband Robert of Winthrop, the late John Gage, and great-grandchildren Hayden and Julia Kane, Ashley, Ava, and Thomas MacGilvray, and Holly Nimblett, dear sister of Vito Tomeo and his wife MaryAnn of Las Vegas, NV, Eleanor Tomeo and Evelyn Tomeo both of Revere, sister-in-law of Emily Gage of Texas.

Family and friends gathered at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Route 22 62), Wilmington on Monday, July 18th at 10:30 a.m. followed by a Mass of Christian Burial in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington at 11:30 a.m. Interment took place in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Memorial donations in Louise's name may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, 311 Arsenal St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Evelyn K. D'Ovidio

Retiree of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology at Harvard University

WILMINGTON - Evelyn K. D'Ovidio of Wilmington, MA formerly of Somerville, MA died peacefully on July 16, 2011 surrounded by her loving family and friends. During her many years in Somerville, Evelyn was a lifelong Girl Scout who went from being a Brownie to eventually teaching others to become troop leaders. She was also very active in the now shuttered Saint Polycarp's church, by helping run the "100" club along with many programs the church offered to young adults and the sick. During this time she opened her door to foster children giving them love and hope for a good life. She is a retiree of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology at Harvard University.

In recent years her love was the Talking Information Network, a radio service that broadcasts the reading of printed material 24 hours a day, 7 days a week for those who are visually impaired and print-handicapped. This service brought the world to her bedside, satisfying her appetite for knowledge, including current news, fiction writing and even the weekly circular. She would always let her family know when canned tomatoes were on sale.

Evelyn lead by example never ever speaking a harsh word of criticism or judgement with an endless supply of love, patience and fortitude for everyone she met. The Girl Scout promise and code reads: I will do my best to be:

honest and fair, friendly and helpful, considerate and caring, courageous and strong, and responsible for what I say and do, and to respect myself and others, respect authority, use resources wisely, make the world a better place, and be a sister to every Girl Scout (and all). Evelyn lived by these words everyday.

The daughter of the late Joseph and Lena Gerrior of Dana Street Somerville. Loving mother of Teresa D'Ovidio of Somerville, devoted sister of Barbara Wiberg of Wilmington, Marie Foss of Rockport, Charles Gerrior of Lubbock, TX and the late Edward Gerrior of Dayton, OH. She is also survived by many caring nieces and nephews and their families. For more information on services please email: evelynodividio@hotmail.com. Donations to honor her memory may be made to The Talking Information Center Network, P.O. Box 519, 130 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.

Lawrence E. Hillson

WWII Army Veteran, Retired Truck Mechanic

WILMINGTON - Lawrence E. Hillson, a lifelong resident of Wilmington, passed away unexpectedly in his sleep on Thursday, July 14, 2011. He was 89 years of age. Larry was the beloved husband of the late Ann Marie (Mackey). Born in Boston on February 8, 1922, he was one of five children of the late Harold L. and Mary G. (Clancy) Hillson.

Larry was a retired truck mechanic and worked for 37 years with the Refrigerated Truck Bodies Co. of Woburn. He also proudly served with the United States Army; Cannon Company 323rd Infantry Regiment, during WWII in the Southern Philippines and the Western Pacific. He was honorably discharged in 1946. He was a member of the American Legion Post 136, a life member of the V.F.W. Post 2458 and was active at the Wilmington Senior Center.

He is survived by his devoted daughter, Kathleen Lamontagne and her husband Robert of Wilmington. Granddaughters, Toni Marie Wheelock of Amesbury and Gloria Ann Wheelock of Billerica. He is further survived by his brothers, Arthur Hillson of Florida and Harold Hillson of Kentucky. In addition to his wife and parents, he is predeceased by his sister, Claire Lazacchi, and brother, George Hillson.

Funeral service were held from the Dello Russo Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington, Monday, July 18th, at 9 a.m. followed by a funeral mass celebrated in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends were respectfully invited to attend and also gathered at the Dello Russo Funeral Home for visiting hours on Sunday from 4 thru 7. Services concluded with military honors and burial at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. To leave an online message of condolence please visit www.dellorusso.net

OBITUARIES

Marie Rose Deegan-Malone

Avid gardener; enjoyed Wilmington and her "Golden Girls"

WILMINGTON - Marie Rose (Brisbois) Deegan-Malone, age 94, of Wilmington, died peacefully on July 18, 2011, at the Winchester Hospital.

Marie was born in Cambridge, MA, on June 2, 1917, she was the cherished daughter of the late Louis and Marie (Walsh) Brisbois, she grew up in Somerville and was educated there.

Marie moved to Wilmington in 1952, making the community her "home" for almost sixty years and enjoying the many Memorial Day Parades and Fourth of July Celebrations from her front yard where she entertained a crowd of relatives and friends. Marie was a lot of fun to be with and she enjoyed a good time, she had a great sense of humor and was very sassy. Marie loved to be with her family, she enjoyed many family holidays, vacations, and celebrations, she also loved to "hang out" with her sisters, they were affectionately referred to as the "Golden Girls". Marie also enjoyed being outdoors and was an avid gardener.

Marie will be fondly remembered as kind and caring to everyone, she was a very stylish and classy lady who will be greatly missed.

Marie was the beloved mother of Joseph B. Deegan & his companion Madeline Lavine of Wilmington, David A. Malone & his late wife Ingrid of Wilmington, the late Marie Deegan Martin, and Dana Paul Malone, loving grandmother of Joseph B. Deegan III, Trevor Deegan, Glenn Martin, Rose Martin, Laura Martin, the late Sean Deegan, as well as several great grandchildren, cherished daughter of the late Louis and Marie (Walsh) Brisbois, dear sister of John Brisbois of Lexington, June Scurini of Stoneham, and Louise Kelly of Lowell, Marie is also survived by many nieces, nephews, and dear friends.

Family and friends will gather for a Funeral Service on Thursday, July 21st at 11:00 a.m. in the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington. Interment to follow in Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Visiting hours Wednesday, July 20th from 4:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Mary E. Picanso

Families Advocacy for Children's Education Group

WILMINGTON - Mary E. Picanso, age 57, of Wilmington passed away with her loving family by her side on July 15, 2011, following a long and courageous battle with cancer that was diagnosed in 2007. She was the beloved wife and best friend of Gerald L. Picanso; together they shared nearly 33 years of marriage.

Mary was born in Boston, one of five children of the late Daniel and Lillian E. (Risher) Sullivan. She moved to Wilmington with her family at the age of 12 and has been a resident here ever since. She was a 1971 graduate of Wilmington High School. Mary worked for more than ten years as a head teller for the Stoneham Savings Bank where she made many wonderful friendships over the years. Mary was very devoted to her family and was passionate about helping people, especially children and their educations. She was a member of the Tewksbury based Families Advocacy for Children's Education Group and served as member of it's Board of Directors and also as the organizations Chief Financial Officer for 12 years.

Mary had many interests throughout her life. She loved animals, doing different arts and crafts, working in her garden and making jellies and preserves. Her greatest joy came from her family and making sure they had what they needed. She was always putting the needs of others before her own needs and she will be sorely missed by her family and many friends.

The family would also like to take this opportunity to thank all of the caregivers of the VNACare Network & Hospice for their professionalism, compassion and support during this most difficult time.

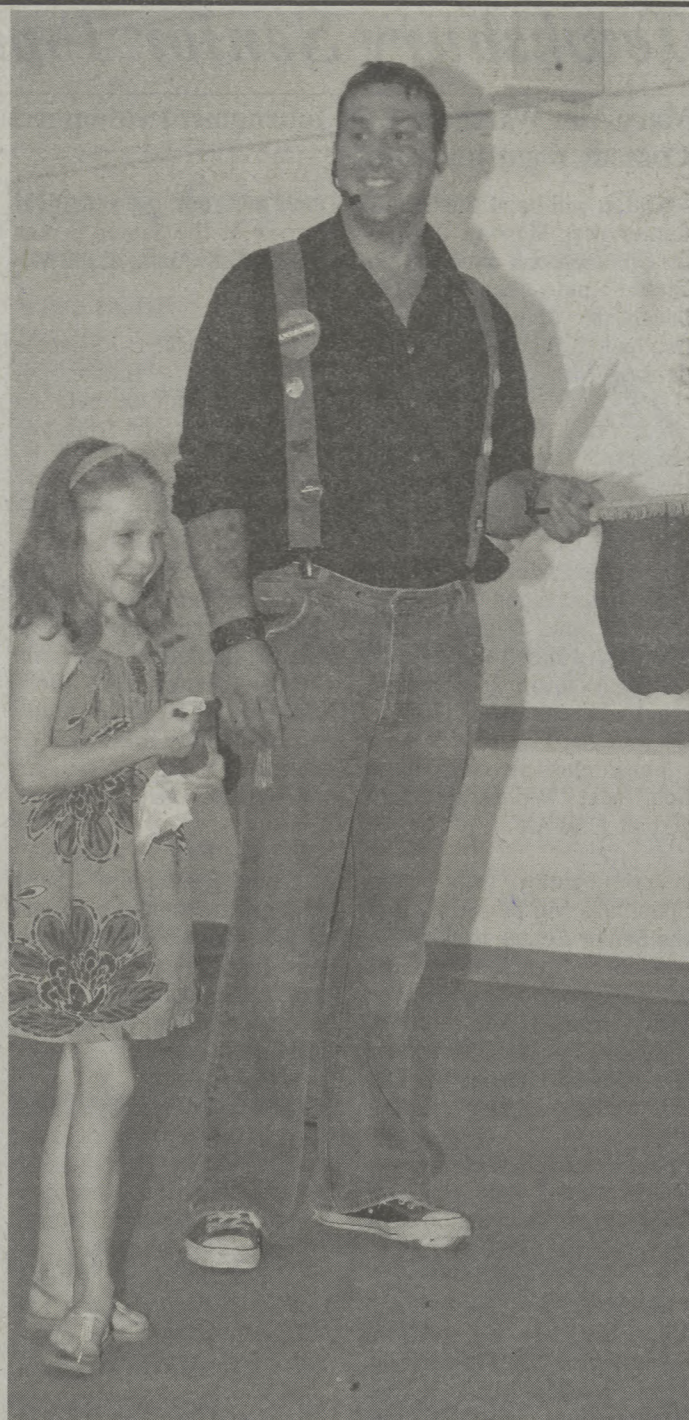

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her children, Pauline McClain of Warren, NH, Joseph Picanso of Wilmington, Mary Ellen Picanso of Gloucester and Christine Picanso of Wilmington. She was the loving grandmother of Frank, Annaliese and Saylor McClain. She was the daughter-in-law of Eleanor Picanso of Wilmington and is further survived by her sister, Donna Potter of Lowell, brothers, Leonard Dezutter of Florida, William Dezutter of Billerica and Daniel Sullivan of Lowell.

Funeral services for Mary will be held from the Dello Russo Funeral Home 374 Main St. Wilmington, Friday, July 22nd, at 9 a.m. followed by a funeral mass celebrated in St. Dorothy Church, Main St., Wilmington, at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Visiting hours at the Dello Russo Funeral Home will be held on Thursday, July 21st, from 4 to 8 p.m. Services will conclude with burial in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

It has been requested that in lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made in Mary's memory to the Wilmington Food Pantry, c/o the Wilmington Community Fund, Inc., P.O. Box 147, Wilmington, MA 01887 or VNACare Network & Hospice, 5 Federal St., Danvers, MA 01923

Summer services at St. Elizabeth's chapel

WILMINGTON - Saturdays, July 16 through July 30 and August 13, a 5 o'clock service will be held inside the church followed by a hot dog barbeque.

Sunday services, July 17 through July 31 and August 14, will be held at 10 o'clock in the outdoor chapel followed by lemonade and cookies.

Saturday, August 6, a "Tailgate Liturgy" will be held at Canobie Lake. All tickets for Canobie Lake park on that occasion will be at a $7 savings. Fun begins at 3:30 p.m.

St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church is at 4 Forest St, Wilmington.

Tewksbury Police Department awarded grant to combat underage drinking

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Police Department will receive $5,000 as one of 17 grants to local police departments from the Executive Office of Public Safety and Security (EOPSS) to combat underage drinking. Funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, $114,000 in grants were awarded on a competitive basis. These awards varied between $5,000 and $15,000 based on the size of the community. This is the second round of grants that was made possible thanks in part to the careful fiscal management of federal funds by EOPSS.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), 33% of 15 to 20 year-olds who were killed in crashes nationwide in 2009 had a blood alcohol content of .01 or higher. Additionally, young drivers tend to engage in other risky driving behaviors while drinking, such as speeding, distracted driving, running red lights, making illegal turns, and not wearing seat belts. In 2009, 70% of the young drivers of passenger vehicles involved in fatal crashes who had been drinking were also unrestrained.

There are many tested strategies available to combat underage drinking, and this grant provides much needed funds to target the problem. The grants will fund a variety of law enforcement initiatives including compliance checks, reverse stings, retail surveillance patrols, and party patrols. Through a combination of these initiatives, the Tewksbury Police Department will enforce a zero-tolerance policy on minors who seek to circumvent the law and those people and businesses that allow them to do so. Whether you are under age, plan to sell to a minor, or buy alcohol for a minor, we will be on the look out. Offenders will be criminally prosecuted and businesses will be referred to the licensing authority for administrative action.

Teens and parents need to be reminded that underage drinking is deadly serious. Parents need to know that hosting a party where alcohol is being served to minors is not only illegal, but is extremely dangerous for their teens, for others in the community, and for the parents themselves, given the legal liabilities they face.

Any loss or injury on our roadways is one too many. The Tewksbury Police Department, in partnership with EOPSS, recognizes that traffic crashes are preventable, and is committed to using this grant to reduce the number of motor vehicle-related fatalities and injuries in the Town of Tewksbury.

Villanova University names two Tewksbury students as Spring 2011 Dean's List recipients

VILLANOVA, PA - Every year, students with established outstanding academic records are honored by the dean of each college. To qualify for the Dean's List in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, one must be a matriculated full-time student and earn a semester grade point average of 3.5. The following Tewksbury residents are on the Dean's List in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Villanova University for the 2011 spring semester:

Mateusz Przewlorka, freshman
Stephanie Simmons, senior

Villanova University, a co-educational Roman Catholic institution, was founded by the Order of Saint Augustine in 1842. A premier institution of higher education, Villanova provides a comprehensive education rooted in the liberal arts; a shared commitment to the Augustinian ideals of truth, unity and love; and a community dedicated to service to others. A wide variety of undergraduate and graduate degree programs are offered through the University's four colleges: the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the Villanova School of Business, the College of Engineering and the College of Nursing, as well as the Villanova School of Law. With a total enrollment that surpasses 10,000 undergraduate, graduate and law students, Villanova is the oldest and largest Catholic university in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It was the first ever Relay For Life for the town. The Planning Committee was thrilled to be able to feature live music at its inaugural event.

Relay For Life is an overnight event that honors cancer survivors, remembers loved ones lost, and fights back against cancer. The band members unfortunately have each been impacted by cancer in their families or friends lives. They welcome the chance to be there.

For Nilsen, he also loves the chance to play for people he knows. "They don't all have the opportunity to see the band," he explains. He likes to take part in the Relay activities too as does the band's keyboard player, Covino. "We like to stay after we finish playing and meet people, maybe play some football or Frisbee. It's a fun time," Covino explains. For Covino, it's also a chance to honor his grandmother who he lost to cancer.

The band's original songs have been played on Boston's 92.5 The River WAAF and WFNX, plus Maine's WTOS and Rhode Island's WBRU. Nilsen sums up his experience by saying, "After hundreds of shows with my best friends, I've found what I want to do with my life. I couldn't ask for more than that."

If you missed the band at the June Relay For Life event, you can check their web site for tour dates, www.Jessicprouty.com. And if you want to support Relay For Life as the band does, visit www.wilmingtonrfl.com. Donations are being accepted until August 31.

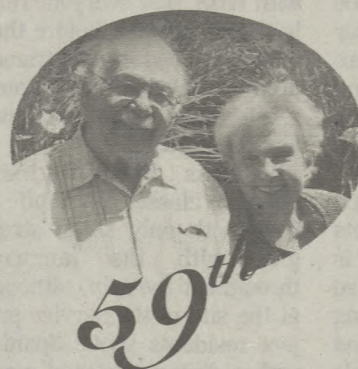

Shown here in their third performance to support Wilmington's American Cancer Society Relay for Life, The Jessica Prouty Band has produced three CDs of original music. Front left is Wilmington local Cody Nilsen. Jessica Prouty is playing bass. Cam Pelkey is the drummer, and the keyboard artist is Andy Covino.

enjoyable." Bea went on to say that she found the people inspiring, and that it gave her life new perspective. Not surprisingly, she also says, "I would love to go back!"

Fellow traveler Thomas Rosetti agreed, saying, "I loved all the little kids and everyone there was great, and so grateful." Despite battling an illness for his first few days, Thomas related that the trip was, "so much better than I thought it would be, and I had so much more fun than I thought I would. The trip was completely worth going on. It was a great life experience."

Rachel Mellen pointed to another highlight: the group got to go white water rafting and exploring in the rain forest. Both activities were so amazing, and so much fun, she says, that she is not able to choose which was better. Saying that the trip "went above and beyond" her expectations, Rachel also pointed out that the people were "super nice," and the food was excellent; both of which further enhanced her experience.

Echoing Rachel, Sarah Luz said, "There was so many incredible things about this trip that I can't narrow any single thing down to the highlight. We encountered so many genuine people and learned so much from them." Agreeing with many of the other students, she added, "the most 'life changing' part of the trip was seeing how the students, at La Escuela de Ciudad de Cuenca, live. They didn't have much at all, yet they were perfectly content. It was fun to watch them run around and play soccer in the mud with nets made out of sticks and a ball that looked like a fruit, (but we're not really sure what it was)."

Sarah found herself amazed by the kids, who "walk down a mountain an hour-and-a-half to get to school everyday." She reports that students were at the school before the group from Wilmington even woke up on most days, just waiting for them to come outside and play soccer or basketball with them or teach them something new in English. Sarah found the kids giving her perspective, since although they had little as far as material goods, they were happy to spend time doing something simple, like learning to say alphabet in English. Summing up her feelings, she says, "It's amazing what 15 young students can teach you about what is important in life. I'm so grateful for everything Wilmington High School and Wilmington Public Schools have to offer because compared to what those students have, we are spoiled with opportunities."

Sarah complimented World Challenge, the organization that put the trip together, saying, "They are good at what they do, and given the chance to travel with them again I would not even have to think about it." She encourages others to share this experience. "This trip was the chance of a lifetime and I highly advise that if World Challenge sets up another trip with WHS, that everyone really thinks about it before they miss out, even if your friends aren't interested - go because you'll make lifelong friends and memories!"

It looks like all those Spanish classes paid off as well, with only small struggles with the language throughout the trip, although at the site of the service project residents spoke Spanish with a dialect that had many unfamiliar words.

The team told the Crier that they wanted to be sure to say thank you to Rocco's and the Wilmington United Methodist Church; the former for graciously feeding them the night before departure and the latter for allowing them to stay over night before they left.

were Josselyn's own inventions - small eyeballs that she calls "Third Eyes" that can watch over things for you. A big hit with teachers and students alike, people were soon purchasing Josselyn's creations for a small charge - just 50 cents. Josselyn says one friend bought ten of them! "She put them all around her desk, some in her locker, and some at home."

Around this same time, Josselyn met a new neighbor who worked for the Animal Rescue League of Boston. This gave her the idea to fundraiser for the organization by selling her tiny objects. Josselyn says that sometimes her close friends help out with ideas and with making her now very detailed creations, which have expanded to include animals and food. "I love making food," she says.

So how is the fundraising going? Well, Josselyn has made two appearances at the Wilmington Farmers Market (at the corner of School Street and Middlesex Avenue, across from the Town Common), and has raised $55 already. This generous young entrepreneur (who has her own business cards!) also takes requests. You can stop by the Market this Sunday between 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m., where she will once again be at the Market table to see what Josselyn has for sale; if you don't see what you like, just ask, and more than likely, she can create just what you are looking for.

Department, located the crop. They surveilled the plants for approximately two weeks, but no one approached during that timeframe, so the decision was made to secure and destroy the plants.

The plants were being grown in pots arranged on wooden pallets, with empty bags of fertilizer, pruning shears, and watering cans strewn about. It was obvious that the plants were being well cared for prior to the surveillance.

"It is possible that someone was alerted to our presence," said Wilmington Police Lt. Joseph Desmond.

In total, police nabbed 70 marijuana plants all in various stages of growth, but none of which was at full maturity. If the plants were fully cultivated, the street value is estimated at somewhere between $50,000 and $70,000.

The plants have all been destroyed and the investigation into who had the green thumb is ongoing.

The WHS students who went to Ecuador will never forget the experience - and neither will the people who they helped. left to right, WHS students are David Sundberg, Rachel Mellen, Bea Banda, Sarah Luz, Connor Burke, Jack Campbell, and Derek Mayo (missing is Tom Rossetti)

Wilmington Summer Baseball wrap-up Northeast team comes away with a shut out win

All-Star teams also finish up play

By CHRIS RICCIARDI

With the 2011 Northeast Baseball regular season approaching its end, the Wilmington High team was able to add another notch to their victory column, defeating Greater Lowell by a 2-0 score last Tuesday night. If there was anyone to credit the victory to, it would be starting pitcher Colin Doherty.

Doherty struck out six batters, walked one batter, and only allowed a single hit. He nearly threw a no-hitter against Greater Lowell, but allowed a single in the last inning.

"It was probably our best game of the year," coach Mike Ciampa said. "It was the cleanest game, with no errors. We didn't really hit, but our pitching was there. Colin had a no-hitter going (because) he was throwing strikes."

Wilmington High scored its runs in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth, Steven Tyler led off the frame with a single. After reaching second base on an error, Tyler was able to score because of an error. In the fifth inning, Jimmy Stein was able to reach first base. Andy Sears then sacrificed to move Stein to second base. Stein later scored on an error.

In that game, Stein had two hits and scored a run. Tyler also had two hits while scoring a run for Wilmington High.

In a game on July 16, the Wilmington Wildcats took on Pelham High. Unlike the game against Greater Lowell, they couldn't prevent a big inning for their opponents, as Pelham took advantage of several miscues to score three runs in the fifth inning.

"It was a really good game," Ciampa said. "We had a guy on third base in the last inning, but couldn't get him in. Andy Sears scored two runs in the game. He has swung the bat well. I think that he's now waiting for good pitches and swinging at strikes rather than chasing pitches outside the zone. Joe Russell had a two-run double."

Starting pitcher Timothy Woods had a decent game, striking out ten batters during his outing. However, he had two bad innings which allowed Pelham to take the lead.

"In the fifth inning, after two walks and an error, three of their runners were able to score," Ciampa said. "We came back and closed the gap. (Woods) started a little shaky, but he settled down. He was a little wild."

Ciampa said that although they only won against Pelham, the team has seen improvement in their quality of play since the beginning of the season. However, Ciampa said that the teams who have seen the best results in the league are those who have a steady roster to use. A lack of a definite roster has been a problem for Wilmington since the start of the season.

"These last two games definitely weren't as bad as previous games," Ciampa said. "We've lost some players because of vacations and stuff. The teams who have a consistent roster are the best, but losing players is an issue with most teams. We were short-handed in one of our games, so I didn't have any expectations. On Saturday, we only had ten players. When we played Woburn, they had 16 or 17 kids."

Wilmington (2-11) will host Tyngsborough on July 21, with the game starting at 7 p.m. Finally, the Wildcats will close out the season on July 23, playing in Stoneham with first pitch at 5 p.m.

10-11-Year-Old All-Stars

The Wilmington 10-and-11-year-old All-Star Baseball team defeated the Wakefield National team 7-5 on Tuesday to secure their spot in the semi-finals. On Thursday, the Wildcats faced North Reading at Rotary Park, with the winner moving on to the finals of the District 13 Tournament. Wilmington could not match North Reading's combination of pitching and defensive plays, and ended up losing by a score of 3-1.

"Overall, it was a good game and it was played well. It was a pretty clean game as well: not too many errors out there tonight," said Wilmington coach Mike Gracia.

The Wildcats faced a tough pitcher who could throw fast balls that were difficult to hit. Nevertheless, they tried their best to overcome the challenge.

"I think we did a decent enough job considering what we were up against tonight. That's as good as any pitching we have seen in this tournament. If I looked back at the Majors this year, that kid threw as hard as anybody in our league," remarked Gracia.

In the top of the first inning, the team attempted to get on base with Riley Zaya getting a walk and advancing to second. However, three consecutive outs followed: two strikeouts and a foul tip caught by the catcher. The Wildcats defense involved a ground out by Zaya, an infield catch at third base by Graham Smith, and a strikeout by Connor Mackenzie.

In the second inning, the Wildcats again were unsuccessful at bat. Two strikeouts and a ground out quickly ended the top of the inning. A few walks and a double allowed by Wilmington let North Reading score two runs by the end of the inning. A catch at right field by Ryan Aldrich and a ground play at second base by Zaya kept North Reading's total at two.

Due to the high speed from the pitcher, the Wildcats began to attempt bunting. A ground out, an unsuccessful bunt, and another strikeout left Wilmington with no hits in the third inning. North Reading scored another run before Zaya caught a fly ball just behind second base and Mackenzie threw two strikeouts. At the end of the third inning, North Reading led by three runs.

By the start of the fourth inning, the North Reading pitcher started to get fatigued and began to throw less accurate than he had been. This gave Wilmington an opportunity to make up the difference in score. Danny Gracia reached on a successful bunt and came around to score on a double hit by Matthew Amentoca, scoring the first and only run for the Wildcats. However, three outs ended the rally soon enough.

Wilmington showed their strong defense in the fourth inning, including a strikeout by Smith and catches by Amentoca and Aldrich in center field and right field, respectively.

The final two innings featured strong defense from both teams that allowed very few hits. The Wildcats hitting was stopped by two strikeouts and a fly out in left field. Likewise, in the field, the Wildcats saw Smith throw another strikeout and Amentoca with a great catch in center field.

The top of the sixth inning gave Wilmington one last chance to tie or win the game. However, North Reading's defense did not give up and easily got the three outs to end the game.

With Wilmington's loss, they were eliminated from the District 13 Tournament. The finals of the tournament were played on Saturday with North Reading defeating the Wakefield American team.

The Wildcats may have finished this season, but the coaches are already looking ahead to next year.

"They know they are as deep a group as we have had come through in a long time. We are planning some fall baseball for some of the 11 year olds. They are going to see more baseball than they have seen in a while. We would be able to host about 25 or 30 kids right here in Wilmington. If we keep pushing them, next year could be special," explained Gracia.

The coaches believe the kids have a chance of competing in the World Series tournament next year if they remain focused and keep working hard. As for now, the team is eliminated from the district tournament and will not play any more games during the summer.

Major All-Stars

Last Tuesday, the Wilmington 12-year-old All-Star baseball team lost their final game to the Stoneham All Stars, 4-1. This game featured strong pitching and defense and took just over an hour to complete.

Both teams had a mere four hits, but three of Stoneham's hits were home runs. Darin MacEachern gave up only four hits in three innings, and Sean Higgins shut out Stoneham the rest of the game for Wilmington.

Jared Spinney, Max Hubbard, Justin Collins, and Sean Murphy had the Wilmington hits. Defensively Kyle Collins, Justin Collins, Max Hubbard, and David Woods made great plays.

These All Stars represented Wilmington with both a great skill level and sportsmanship throughout this tournament. They were eliminated from the tournament with a record of 1-3.

The finals of the tournament were played on Saturday between Stoneham and the Wakefield National team with Stoneham winning by a score of 15-5.

The coaches, Joe Higgins, Sean Murphy, and Bob Gage would like to thank the players for their hard work and dedication at practices, as well as their parents for their team support.

The All Stars included William Mills, Justin Collins, Jared Spinney, Robbie Ducharme, Collin Murphy, Justin Kannaly, Jack Bertolami, Darin MacEachern, Mike Cocca, Edmond DeAngelis, David Woods, Kyle Collins, and Sean Higgins.

Noone to run Field Hockey camp

There will be a two-day Field Hockey clinic for girls entering grades 4-12 to be held on August 8 and 9 at Lovely Field located at Andover High School. The clinic will take place from 8 am-12 noon. Players should bring a field hockey stick, mouth guard, goggles, shin guards, water, and a snack. The program will be run by Maureen Noone, the AHS coach, who led the high school team to its first state championship this past fall, and the former Wilmington High School coach. The cost is $60 and all proceeds will go to the Jimmy Fund in memory of Lauren Ciampa, a former AHS player who passed away.

Tewksbury Summer Baseball Round-Up

Jr. Nationals eliminated

By CHRIS RICCIARDI
& LAUREN SPENCER

The season has come to a close for the Tewksbury National Juniors All-Star baseball team, who were eliminated from the state tournament on Sunday. Tewksbury National, who finishes the regional round with an 0-2 record, lost to Gloucester and Canton over the weekend.

"We faced a great pitcher from Gloucester and had some tough calls when we played Canton," coach Eric Abele said. "We had a great bunch of players. They got along well and most of them are friends from school. We always tried to have fun at practice and enjoy our games."

Tewksbury National faced off against Gloucester on Saturday, but were unfortunate enough to face off against pitcher Tyler Favaloro. Favaloro, who was able to throw a blistering fastball, struck out 14 batters and nearly threw a no-hitter in Gloucester's 8-1 victory. Favaloro lost the no-hitter in the final inning when Tewksbury catcher Tyler Johnston hit a double.

While Tewksbury's lineup couldn't get anything going against Favaloro, Gloucester was able to rough up several Tewksbury pitchers for nine hits and eight runs. Tewksbury had to use several pitchers over the course of the day.

In the bottom of the first inning, with a man on third base, Favaloro helped his own cause with a double that bounced off the right field wall, driving in a run. After Favaloro advanced to third base on a wild pitch, Bart Margiotta hit a ground out which drove in a run. After the inning, Gloucester held a 2-0 advantage.

Gloucester was able to double their lead in the bottom of the second inning. With the bases loaded and a run already in, Favaloro hit a sharp grounder to Tewksbury third baseman Billy Bennett, who couldn't come up with the ball.

Gloucester held the 4-0 advantage after two innings.

Gloucester would score two more runs in the bottom of the third inning to take a 6-0 lead. In the bottom of the sixth, Favaloro continued with his dominant performance at the plate, driving in a run with a single. Another runner would cross the plate in that inning to give Gloucester an 8-0 advantage.

In the top of the seventh inning, Tewksbury made a brief attempt at a comeback. Johnston broke up Favaloro's no-hitter with a lead-off double. Derek Castiglione then hit a single to put to men on. Johnston would cross the plate after Gloucester second baseman Connor Harris committed an error. That would be the extent of Tewksbury's offense, however, as Gloucester struck out the last batter to preserve the 8-1 victory.

On Sunday, Tewksbury should have been on the road. However, since Canton couldn't host the game, Tewksbury was given home field advantage. Canton didn't let that affect their play, eliminating Tewksbury with a 12-6 win.

Abele said that Tewksbury faced several difficult calls from the umpiring crew against Canton, which didn't help their cause by any means.

"It was bad luck with a few close calls," Abele said. "One of those calls came with the bases loaded. We were on the short end of a bunch of calls by the hometown umpiring crew."

Eric Abele went 2-for-4 in the game with two doubles, two runs, and a stolen base. John Waddell hit three singles in the game, going 3-for-4. Johnston went 1-for-3 in that game with a walk and a stolen base.

opened up the Conway Tournament with a 7-2 loss to North Reading on Monday night. Tournament games are usually held at either Poulin or Sullivan Field, but Monday night's game was held at L.A. Field. That brought new challenges to Tewksbury catcher Joe DuLock.

"L.A. Field has a big back-drop," Tewksbury coach Tom Deveau said. "Any passed ball usually leads to two bases. Joe did a great job, only allowing one passed ball. He had a couple of nice hits, as well. He was the spark plug for our team in the game."

Unfortunately, several mental errors prevented Tewksbury from earning the victory, along with North Reading's hot bats. North Reading broke through in the fourth inning, and was able to ride their offense to a 7-2 victory.

"North Reading was a pretty good hitting team," Deveau said. "Our pitcher, Kyle Rossetti, did well. We had a couple of mental mistakes on the field. We just couldn't get that hit. The pitching (that we faced) was nothing more than we have seen. We just hit balls into the ground. We couldn't get that line drive that we needed. We had base-runners that we just couldn't knock in. On defense, kids just didn't know what to do with the ball. There weren't many physical mistakes."

Rossetti went five innings, giving up a few hits while not allowing a walk. Kyle Zerras had a good game, nearly turning two double plays while showing his speed on the base-paths. Christian Erbetta also performed well against North Reading.

Tewksbury (0-2) continues play in the pool round of the Conway Tournament. After taking on Billerica American on Wednesday night, Tewksbury will play the Billerica Indians on July 23. First-pitch is at 5:00 p.m.

10-Year-Old Nationals

The Tewksbury Nationals 10-year-old team played their first game of the annual Conway tournament on Monday night. They came out with a 10-6 win over the Billerica Indians. Offensive standouts were Matt Perron, Cam Legbold, and Adam Pacheco.

Head coach, Wayne Freitag said, "It was a win that we should have had, but both teams played a great game. It was the opening night of the Conway and the kids hadn't played in a while so overall it was a very good game."

The Nationals will play their second of four game pool play this Saturday or Monday. They are in hopes of placing first or second in their pool after the four games, so they could later move on to a playoff round.

Senior Nationals

The Tewksbury National Seniors lost a tough 16-2 game to Gloucester last Saturday in the first round of the sectional tournament. They will now move into the constellation bracket and play games this Wednesday, against North Reading, and again on Thursday night.

"It was a tough game," said head coach Ed Sullivan. "We're at a disadvantage. We're younger than all the other teams by at least a year we're a lot smaller. But Gloucester did well coming out of the gate.

They hit back-to-back home runs. But then we stopped them. We played our game and we relaxed a bit, but following that, they're just a very powerful team."

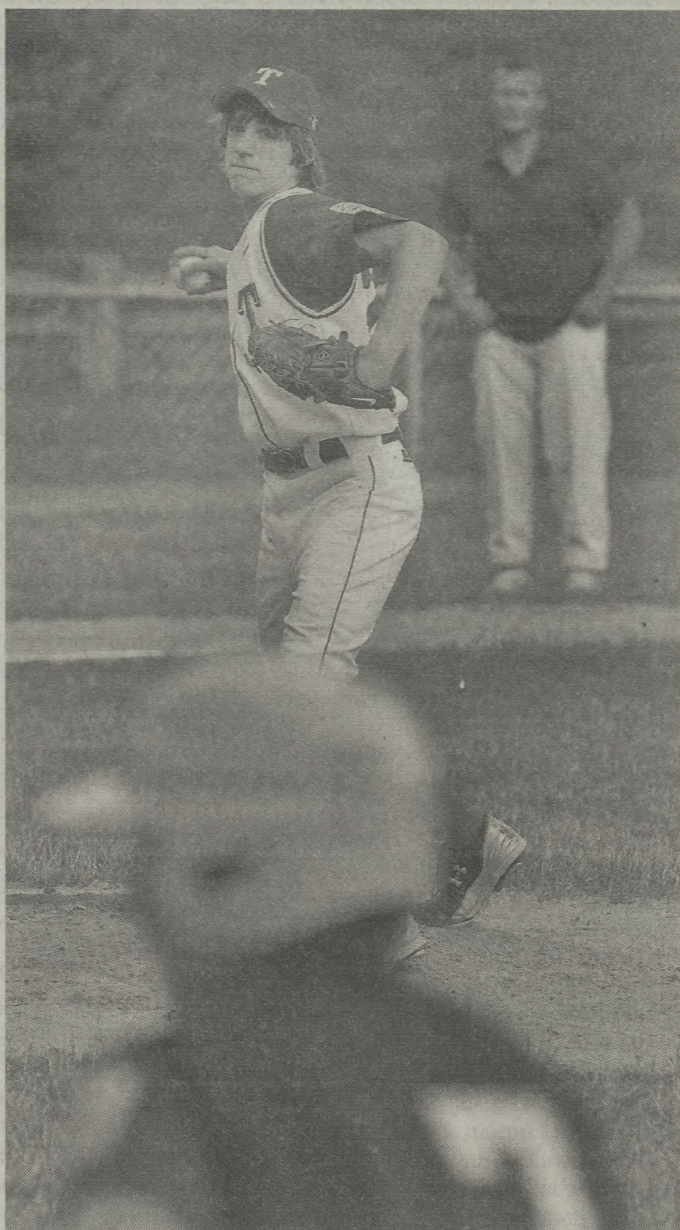

If the Nationals win both of this week's games that would put them back into the championship round this Saturday, with a second crack at the Gloucester team.

Northeast Baseball

The Tewksbury High Northeast Baseball team couldn't earn a victory against the playoff-bound Chelmsford Lions on Monday night. However, they also didn't lose, tying Chelmsford by a 6-6 mark. The game was called in the seventh inning due to darkness. With the tie, both teams earn a point in the standings.

Tewksbury (3-9) held the lead on two separate occasions, but couldn't hold off Chelmsford's offense. Tewksbury senior Kevin Saunders went 3-for-4 with a double and a home run. Nick Bain went 3-3 with a triple. The Redmen's pitching staff couldn't stop Chelmsford's George Frascarelli, who had two hits along with three RBI's. Tom Bishop, a relief pitcher for Chelmsford, provided three innings of scoreless relief to prevent Tewksbury from scoring the go-ahead run.

Tewksbury has two games left in the season. They will be in Billerica on July 21 for a 6 p.m. match-up against the Billerica Indians. Then, on July 24, Tewksbury will close out the season with a game against Burlington. The game starts at 5:30 p.m. Both games are on the road.

Hanley, others, compete in Agganis Games

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

While their high school football careers came to an end in November, three former Wilmington High standouts were able to suit up one more time this past week in what as become one of the most prestigious All-Star games in the state.

Last Thursday night at the Manning Bowl in Lynn, 2011 Wilmington High graduates, Sean Hanley, Kevin Moriarty and Gordon Fitch all played for the North squad in the 50th Annual Agganis All-Star Football Classic. While the game did not go exactly as they might have hoped with the South prevailing by a final score of 20-8, each of the former Wildcats represented themselves and Wilmington High very well and were proud to be part of the team. The were also thrilled with the opportunity to suit up one more time with their friends and teammates.

Hanley, who was the starting quarterback and captain for the North and shared duties with Bishop Fenwick signal caller Bret Kidik and Lynnfield's Gino Cohee, performed very well, rushing for 26 yards and passing for another 24.

After the game, he shared his thoughts with the Lowell Sun and expressed his appreciation for playing in the game.

"It was great being a captain," said Hanley. "I didn't expect it. It was a real fun experience. I had a great time. This was the perfect way to end my career. It wasn't the best result."

One of Hanley's passes was a six yard completion to teammate Moriarty who also chipped in with 18 yards rushing on four carries.

Prior to the game, Moriarty had expressed his appreciation for being selected to play along with his peers, as well as what it meant to be carrying on a Moriarty family tradition.

"This game comes as a huge honor to me. It is basically like the icing on the cake to all of my accomplishments throughout high school," Moriarty said. "My brother also played in the Agganis game last year so this was something I had my sights set on. It is a lot of fun to be able to play again with Sean and Gordon. This just adds to the great memories I had playing with both of them at Wilmington High School."

Defensive lineman Fitch had a sack in the game as well as making several tackles. He was also honored by his selection to play in the prestigious game.

"Being selected to this team has always been a big dream of mine. It feels good that all my hard work through high school and my senior year has been noticed," Fitch said. "To be accepted onto an All-Star team, and being selected along with my great friends and teammates made my high school career a memory I am happy to live the rest of my life with."

North head coach Bill Maradei, who is the head coach at Austin Prep, told the Lowell Sun after the game what a pleasure it was to coach the three Wilmington High standouts.

"Sean Hanley is a wonderful kid," Maradei said. "We played against him during the high school season, and he's a great talent. He's very coachable. All the Wilmington kids are. It was a pleasure to coach all of them."

Proceeds from the game benefit the Agganis Foundation, which has awarded more than $1.4 million in college scholarships over the years while honoring the memory of Harry Agganis the legendary Lynn Classical, Boston University and Boston Red Sox stand-out, who died of a massive pulmonary embolism at age 26 in 1955.

While football is the longest standing tradition of the Agganis Games it is hardly the only sport that local athletes participated in last week, as the Agganis Games now feature seven different All-Star games including men's and women's basketball and men's and women's soccer.

Former Wildcats Andy Owens in soccer and Amanda Keane in basketball also represented the school very well and while the tradition of their games may not yet be as long as their football counterparts, they were very aware of what an honor it was to be among those selected for the game.

Keane, who played very well in the North squad's 48-45 loss to the South last week, was very honored by her selection when she first heard the news and that feeling was only enhanced after getting to know her new teammates and playing in the game with them.

"It was truly an honor to be recognized for my high school achievements by being selected to play in the Agganis Games," said Keane, who will be suiting up to play at Roger Williams University. "Due to the fact that its summer and I'm training hard for my upcoming college season I forgot that the Agganis Games were coming up. When I received the news that I was selected I was honored."

"I am grateful to have been able to play in a game amongst the most talented high school female basketball players in Massachusetts. With most all star games I've ever witnessed the players are usually slightly selfish and 'show off' their talents. The group of girls I played with was completely opposite. I've never before played on a team (that had never practiced together before) and seen so much communication and passing. The girls were all great kids which made the experience even better."

Tewksbury's Shannon Smith (far right) was a member of a basketball team that won the Bronze medal in the Bay State games. The team consisted of 8th grade girls from Revere, Woburn, Salem, Billerica, and Boxboro. The Bay State games were held at the Reggie Lewis area in Boston last weekend. (courtesy photo).

Several locals named to UML Honor Roll

UMass Lowell, inspired by another special year in athletics, placed 107 student-athletes on the Northeast-10 Conference Spring 2011 Commissioner's Honor Roll, the Conference announced Wednesday.

The Commissioner's Honor Roll honors student-athletes who have met and/or exceeded a minimum 3.0 semester grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) for the spring 2011 semester.

The Commissioner's Honor Roll is announced twice annually following the fall and spring semesters (effective fall 2009).

Among UMass Lowell's 107 student-athletes were 83 individuals who repeated the honors from last year or previous years, including three five-time honorees, 22 four-time honorees, 16 three-time honorees and 13 two-time recipients.

Six-time honorees - those who have earned the distinction at every opportunity of their careers - included seniors Brianne Bozzella (Wilmington, Mass.) and Ella Merullo (Wakefield, Mass.) of the women's soccer team; and Jennifer Carr (Tewksbury, Mass.) of the women's track and field/cross country team.

Nineteen student-athletes received the honor for the fifth time in their careers while ten were cited a fourth time.

Seven River Hawks, led by Bozzella, earned perfect 4.0 averages for the spring. Joining her were seniors Krissy Little (Concord, N.H.) of the women's basketball team; Jaime Hadley (Chelmsford, Mass.) of the field hockey team; and Sean Gelinis (Northwood, N.H.) of the men's cross country team.

On the men's side, eight members of the golf team were cited, making for 62 percent of its roster while the cross country/track and field teams had 15 athletes cited for 28 percent.

In another stellar year, four UMass Lowell teams - field hockey, men's cross country, men's basketball and baseball - advanced to NCAA Championship competition, highlighted by the field hockey team's second NCAA Championship in six years.

Additionally, 23 members of the women's and men's track and field teams moved on to both the NCAA indoor and outdoor championships. Besides Bozzella and Carr, other locals who made the list include Wilmington resident Nick Boutoures (baseball), Steve Potner (soccer) and Charlotte Jensen (soccer) and Tewksbury residents Sarah Bonomo, Karie Judge and Stephanie Walker (track-and-field), Vicky Wong (volleyball) and Sammy Macy (field hockey).

Dan Vassallo, a member of the race committee, who also has a long history of winning road races and marathons, has offered a guideline to those people who plan on running in this year's half marathon in Wilmington:

As the Wilmington Half Marathon is just over nine weeks away, the folks at the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce are continuing their summer's worth of work to make the 2011 version of the race the best version ever. The race is at 10:10 AM on Sunday, September 25th, and you can get more information on wilming-tonbusiness.com.

This week, I'll briefly discuss tempo runs, as they are a critical part of an effective training cycle. They are also the easiest way to build some confidence and a good workout to fit in around your work schedule, especially if you run early in the morning. The tempo run pace is a pace that's "comfortably fast." If you have run marathons before, it is faster than your marathon pace. It is a pace that you should be able to hold for 40 minutes (for beginners) to 60 minutes (for veterans) without feeling like you're going to die. If you cannot carry a sporadic conversation at this pace, you're going too fast, but if you can carry out a whole conversation, you're going too slow. Your heart rate, if you're into that kind of thing, should be between 75% and 85% of your maximum heart rate when doing a tempo run. For performers and competitors, I'm building in a tempo run to this week's plan.

Week Starting July 25th (9 weeks before race): To Finish: Monday - 4 miles easy; Tuesday - day off; Wednesday - 6 miles (5 easy, 1 moderate); Thursday - 3 miles, then pick up the Town Crier for next week's schedule; Friday - day off; Saturday - 7 miles easy; Sunday - 5 miles easy. Total: 25 miles.

To Perform: Monday - 4 miles easy; Tuesday - 5 miles (1 mile easy, 3 miles at tempo pace, 1 mile easy); Wednesday - 7 miles easy; Thursday - 5 miles (4 easy, 1 moderate); then pick up the Town Crier for next week's schedule; Friday - day off; Saturday - 11 miles; Sunday - 6 miles easy. Total: 45 miles.

To Compete: Monday - 6 miles easy; Tuesday - 8 miles (2 miles easy, 4 miles at tempo pace, 2 miles easy); Wednesday - 9 miles very easy; Thursday - 5 miles (mile easy, mile hard, mile easy, mile hard, mile easy), then pick up the Town Crier for next week's schedule; Friday - day off; Saturday - 11 miles; Sunday - 6 miles easy. Total: 45 miles.

Reading native Chris McConnell takes home the Gold, Silver and Bronze from National Senior Games

By PAUL FEELY

Reading native Chris McConnell won gold, silver and bronze medals recently competing in the National Senior Games held at Turner Stadium, Humble, TX.

More than 10,000 senior men and women athletes from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign countries competed in the world's largest multi-sport event for athletes age 50 and older at 13 separate venues in and around Houston, TX.

McConnell, now a resident of Andover and competing in the M 55 division, competed in his first-ever National Senior Games, running six races in four days. McConnell, who is currently 54, competed in the Men's 55-59 age group, due to his turning 55 before year end.

He placed third in the M55 age group in the 100m dash with a time of 12.95. His time of 26.21 was good enough to earn him a silver medal in the 200m dash and he ran the third leg of the gold medal winning 4x100m relay.

This was the first time McConnell competed in the Senior Games.

"This was my first National Senior Games," said McConnell. "I was excited to take part in them because I had trained hard since my knee surgery and wanted to see how I would do at a national level. Last summer I competed in the National Masters Championships, in Sacramento, CA. I placed 9th in the 100 meter dash and 11th in the 200 meter dash. That was actually my first National meet."

The weather conditions in Houston were not conducive to fast times. It was hot and humid for all the races, with extremely strong wind gusts into the faces of the sprinters.

"I posted my results on my Facebook page, complaining about the wind saying, just once I would like to run with a gale force wind pushing me instead of into me," McConnell said. "Running into such a strong headwind, makes times meaningless and makes you feel like you're running a lot further."

McConnell became interested in running at a young age, living in Reading.

"I started running in the eighth grade," said McConnell. "My interest was sparked because I was always faster than the other kids in my class. What kept me interested was the competitiveness of the sport and the team camaraderie. Reading High had a great coach, Hal Croft, and great team spirit."

"I ran for two years at Austin Prep, then transferred to Reading High for my Junior and Senior years, were I was on several State Championship relay teams and was state class champion in the 220 yard dash. Also, in 1975, my senior year, the boys track team won the Massachusetts All-State Team title, which, as Coach Croft, said, is like winning four super bowls in high school football."

Unlike younger athletes who get faster as they mature, Master athletes generally get slower each year. However, McConnell's times have actually improved each year.

"Yes, my times each year

"HARRY POTTER AND THE DEATHLY HALLOWS"

by Paul Feely

IT'S THE FINAL ADVENTURE for Harry Potter, Hermione and Ron. In "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows - Part 2" the makers of the film have saved the best for last. In this epic finale the battle between the good and evil forces of the wizarding world escalates to an all-out war and a climatic showdown. Harry Potter fans will love it!

"HARRY POTTER AND THE DEATHLY HALLOWS - PART 2" ****

The makers of the Harry Potter films have saved the best for last.

'Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows - Part 2', is the final adventure in the Harry Potter film series. The much-anticipated motion picture event is the second of two full-length parts.

In the epic finale, the battle between the good and evil forces of the wizarding world escalates into an all-out war. The stakes have never been higher and no one is safe. But it is Potter who may be called upon to make the ultimate sacrifice as he draws closer to the climactic showdown with Lord Voldemort.

The Potter series gets a worthy, if not spectacular, send-off in "Deathly Hallows: Part 2."

Visually it is stimulating, but the emotions don't feel heartfelt enough among an overload of destruction and special-effect creatures.

"Part 2" finds wizards Harry, Hermione (Emily Watson) and Ron (Rupert Grint) in the last stages of their quest to conquer evil

Voldemort by acquiring and destroying the pieces of his soul buried in items called Horcruxes. The very survival of the school and its residents is called into question. As is the survival of Harry himself.

This is the biggest "Potter" movie, and the shortest. Fans will ask what happened to some of the bigger items in the final book, and the film should probably have devoted more time to certain scenes it does include, such as the murder of a key character early in the film.

"Part 2" is an enjoyable adventure, and there are many highlights: Fiennes' performance as Voldemort continues to be top notch. Several favorite characters pop up again briefly. And everything about the production is fantastic - they spared no expense.

"Part 2" brings the series full-circle, ending at the location where Harry's journey began back in "The Sorcerer's Stone", and it is a fitting conclusion to an entertaining and epic journey.

"HORRIBLE BOSSES" GRADE: **

'Horrible Bosses' continues a recent string of very adult, and very funny, comedies aimed at the crowd that made 'The Hangover' such a huge hit at the box office.

The plot looks like this: For Nick (Jason Bateman), Kurt (Jason Sudeikis) and Dale (Charlie Day), the only thing that would make the daily grind more tolerable would be to grind their intolerable bosses (Kevin Spacey, Colin Farrell, Jennifer Aniston) into dust. Quitting is not an option, so, with the benefit of a few-too-many drinks and some dubious advice from a hustling ex-con (Jamie Foxx), the three friends devise a convoluted and seemingly foolproof plan to rid themselves of their respective employers... permanently. There's only one problem: even the best laid plans are only as fool-proof as the brains behind them.

The trailer that advertised "Horrible Bosses" in theaters was funny, and unfortunately gave away many of the film's funnier moments. There's almost not a single good joke from that wasn't spoiled by being showcased in commercials ahead of time.

"Horrible Bosses" is still very funny, but in a familiar way, because if you go to the movies frequently you've seen all the laughs before. Bateman and Sudeikis still make the material work, but it's not as funny as it would have been had you had no idea what was coming next.

Billing itself as a "Hangover"-style comedy, "Horrible Bosses" provides a nice vehicle for Bateman, Sudeikis, and Charlie Day to shine as three nice guys who have different but acceptable reasons for wanting their bosses dead.

The bosses are played by Jennifer Aniston (a nympho), Kevin Spacey (a manipulator) and Colin Farrell (a real pig), but unfortunately aren't as funny as they could have been, given the star power of the actors playing the roles.

"TRANSFORMERS: DARK OF THE MOON" GRADE: ***

The first 'Transformers' movie was a decent mix of special effects and nostalgia for aging sci-fi fans. The second installment of the series, "Transformers: Revenge of the Fallen" was a waste of time for all involved, including anyone in the audience who purchased a ticket.

The third time appears to be the charm. In "Transformers: Dark of the Moon", director Michael Bay has finally found the right mix of action, humor, and special effects that bring this popular animated series to life on the big screen - and in 3D.

The new movie was made by most of the same people involved with the earlier ones (Megan Fox is gone), and they all have apparently hit their stride with this entry.

What was once loud and chaotic has become stripped down, exciting and funny in "Dark of the Moon," which begins by working in actual events in history - it claims that, in addition to being the first men on the moon, Buzz Aldrin and Neal Armstrong were also on a secret mission to investigate the discovery of one of the Transformers ships - and then shifts into a battle for control of Earth between the bad transformers and good transformers, assisted by Shia LaBeouf's character of Sam.

This time Frances McDormand is along for the ride, playing the no-nonsense director of national intelligence.

Julie White and Kevin Dunn return as Sam's bossy parents, along with John Turturro (revealing the half-crazy portrayal of an agent he hinted at in the earlier films).

This time the young romance featured is between Sam and Rosie

Summer concerts in Stoneham Thursdays

The Stoneham Chamber of Commerce is once again hosting a summer season of music with an exciting lineup for its Concert Series.

The remaining concerts feature a diverse array of acts - some new to the Series and some returning favorites. Styles include: swing, jazz, oldies, rock/pop, country, Italian, Irish, and more!

The remaining lineup includes: July 21 Seabreeze (Italian), July 28 Janine Graham (jazz standards), August 4, The Jolly Rogues (Irish) and August 11 The United States Air Force Band of Liberty (jazz).

All concerts begin at 7 p.m. and will end at dusk. The concerts take place on the Town Common, but in the event of rain will be moved indoors to the Town Hall.

Please call the Stoneham Chamber of Commerce at 781-438-0001 the day of the concert to check on the location in case of questionable weather.

Woburn, Burlington and Winchester

Local communities offer Farmer's Markets

Three local communities are holding Farmer's Markets this summer offering fresh produce and an assortment of other locally grown and made delights for all to enjoy.

The Burlington Farmer's Market is open from 3 - 7 p.m. on Fridays at the United Church of Christ at the corner of Lexington Street and Bedford Street (south of Simonds Park) in Burlington.

Saturdays the Winchester Farmer's Market is held on the Winchester Town Common from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The Woburn Farmer's Market at Spence Farm, 41 Wyman Street in Central Square, is open every Sunday through October 23 from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Summer's a great time to take a ride, meet local growers, see neighbors, shop in the fresh air and walk around the local Farmer's Markets.

MOVIES

Huntington-Whiteley, replacing Fox.

Even the robots have heart this time, displaying a wide range of emotions even as they are transforming (there's a great sequence when Sam is rescued, in slow motion, by a transformer that turns into a very safe car to rest in).

The film's explosive finale is staged in Chicago, and worth the price of admission. The action in "Dark of the Moon" is clear and it doesn't feel like an assault because it's broken up with humor, romance and a little mystery - exactly what a summer movie should be.

"CARS 2"
GRADE: ***

This high-speed sequel returns most of the original cast, and while the story isn't quite as good as the original, its still a pretty good time at the movies.

The storyline plays out as follows: star racecar Lightning McQueen (Owen Wilson) and this friend the tow truck Mater (Larry the Cable Guy) take their friendship to exciting new places when they head overseas to compete in the first-ever World Grand Prix to determine the world's fastest car.

But the road to the championship is filled with plenty of potholes, detours and hilarious surprises when Mater gets caught up in an intriguing adventure of his own: international espionage.

Mater finds himself torn between assisting Lightning McQueen in the high-profile race and towing the line in a top-secret mission orchestrated by master British super spy Finn McMissile (Michael Caine) and the stunning spy-in-training Holley Shiftwell (Emily Mortimer).

It's a fun movie. The usual brilliance in animation comes out in this film, as "Cars 2" takes the virtual camera along for the ride. Combined that with the 3D presentation, and this movie is a thrill to watch.

"Cars 2" is harmless and fun. It's not the best movie Pixar has churned out - not even close - but it is fun to watch, and the kids will love it.

9TH ANNUAL WALK FOR THE KIDS

On Saturday, August 6 the Boys and Girls Club of Stoneham is hosting its 9th annual Walk for the Kids. Registration begins at 8 a.m. at Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield. The Walk begins at 8:30 a.m. Walkers can register on line through Firstgiving.com!

The Boys and Girls Club of Stoneham is a private, non-profit organization that has been serving children in the greater Stoneham community for approximately 38 years. In order to continue the quality of its programs year after year it depends on donations from supporters and friends in the community.

The club's membership is an affordable $25/year. However operating costs continue to rise. This year the cost per member is $5000 and the club reaches out to its friends to assist in raising the operating funds necessary to continue to offer the quality programs and snacks it provides.

OUT, ABOUT, AND READY TO READ

big social event," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"As a committee we are busy planning the Fall Street Faire now, and are looking for anyone interested in helping out," said Reading Selectman Ben Tafoya, who also serves as chairman of the Fall Street Faire Committee this year.

"This year's Fall Street Faire will be held on Sunday September 11th, 2011 from noon until 5 P.M. The day will begin with a 5k-road race then a September 11th commemorative event at Reading Memorial High School at 11 AM.

"The Coordinating Committee is composed of town residents Sheila Clarke, Steve Goldy, Rosemary Murphy, Tina Ohlson and Tafoya. The range of opportunities for volunteers is very broad. The Committee is looking for residents interested in helping with managing the website and social networking, logistics, recruitment of vendors and sponsors, entertainment and day of the event workers. Organizers report that you should have a Type A personality that enjoys meeting deadlines, interfacing with the town and public, and having a good time! If this fits your description, the Committee wants you.

"The Committee is considering moving the Faire's performance area off the end of Haven Street, and relocating it closer to the train depot. Tafoya said this would allow crowds to gather at a location less likely to create a bottleneck pedestrian traffic jam, and also create a new area for vendors to place booths, along both sides of the lower end of Haven Street"

A study of previous fairs shows that previous success factors include the weather, the Reading calendar, and planning. Volunteers are needed and most welcome. For more information, please check www.readingfallstreetfaire.com.

SUNDAYS IN WILMINGTON

Across from the Town Common, the Wilmington Farmers Market is open every Sunday from 12:30 - 3:30pm until September 4th, 2011 - complete with vendors, activities, entertainment, education, and a community table.

A few vendors will also be taking pre-orders via the following website, a veritable cornucopia of information: <http://www.wilmingtonfarmersmarket.com/index.html>.

Run entirely by volunteers, the Wilmington Farmers Market could use your help. If you have an hour or two (or more) on any Sunday during market times this summer, please check out the available opportunities at <https://www.lotsahelpinghands.com/c/640914/>

ON THE WAITING LIST IN WOBURN (AND READING)

"At its board meeting at the Northborough Free Library ..., the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners (MBLC) voted to place Woburn Public Library on a waiting list for a provisional library construction grant," notes the "Woburn Daily Times."

"The grant is part of the MBLC's Massachusetts Public Library Construction Program (MPLCP) which helps libraries across the state meet the growing demand for library services with expanded and improved library facilities.

"Library Building Committee Chairman Richard Mahoney greeted the news with great enthusiasm. 'We have informed Mayor Galvin and we're working on it now,' said Mahoney ...

"He pointed out over the past 10 years, in-person visits to Massachusetts public libraries have increased by 50 percent with over 34 million visits to libraries and 64.5 million items borrowed in 2010 year alone.

"Twenty-eight libraries completed the grant round process. Through a rigorous review process, eight projects have been awarded provisional grants and fifteen projects have been placed on a waiting list. Wait-listed libraries will receive their grants as funds become available through the state's five-year capital plan or if a grant recipient is unable to move forward with a project, noted Mahoney and the Building Committee members ...

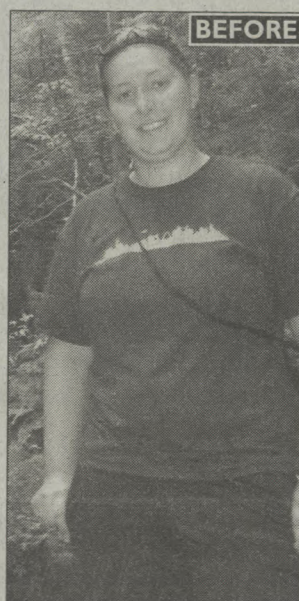

The Reading Public Library has been placed on the waiting list.

Athletes & Activities

by Paul Feely

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

Why was the 1974 Daytona "500" shortened to 450 miles?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•SAMMY MACY, a 2011 graduate from TEWKSBURY, MASS., received the 2010-11 Honda Division II Athlete of the Year award at the Collegiate Women's Sports Awards (CWSA) press conference recently at Columbia University's Low Memorial Library.

Macy was honored with Division I recipient Maya Moore, a standout on the University of Connecticut basketball team (who accepted her award via satellite); and Kendra Stern, a standout swimmer at Amherst College.

With the award, Honda will donate $5,000 toward UMass Lowell's women's athletic programs. Macy was presented the award by ESPN Sportscenter anchor and host Sage Steele.

"Winning this award is definitely an amazing feeling," Macy said at the press conference. "I never thought I would actually win it. Being nominated was amazing as it is and to win it is unbelievable. There are so many phenomenal female athletes in Division II, and to represent them here today is just unreal."

Macy was named the Honda/CWSA Division II recipient on June 15 out of a field of 11 finalists each in different sports. She is the first-ever Division II student-athlete from the Northeast-10 Conference, New England or East Region to receive the award, and is also the first field hockey player to earn the distinction in the CWSA program's 24 years of honoring Division II athletes.

Macy was joined at the ceremony by her family as well as head coach Shannon Hlebichuk and director of athletics Dana Skinner.

"Sammy's name is synonymous with passion, pride and perseverance," said Hlebichuk. "She has truly embraced the game of field hockey and her involvement off the field has been remarkable."

Perhaps UMass Lowell's greatest player, Macy enjoyed a storied career in which she emerged the program's all-time leading scorer as a junior, and capped her career with 91 goals and 38 assists (220 points).

Macy was among the catalysts of UMass Lowell's 2010 season which saw the River Hawks post a 24-0 record and capture their second NCAA Championship in six years with a 1-0 triumph over Shippensburg University.

Macy scored a single season record 30 goals and dished out 14 assists and led Division II in points per game with 3.17. She scored two or more goals in eight games, notched three hat tricks and peaked with five goals in a 6-0 win at Indiana (Pa.).

"Sammy not only led the team in scoring for three straight years, but she is also second among all-time assist leaders," Hlebichuk noted. "She is not just a finisher, but a smart playmaker and a selfless teammate - a rare combination."

A three-time All-American, Macy led UMass Lowell to a four-year record of 81-14 (.853 winning percentage) which included appearances in four straight NCAA championship games. Additionally, the River Hawks captured the NE-10 Tournament in 2007 and 2010 as well as the NE-10 regular season in 2007, 2008 and 2010.

Perhaps most impressive, Macy came back from anterior cruciate ligament tears in 2008 and 2009. "She never came back the same player," said Hlebichuk. "She always came back even stronger. She put in whatever time and effort was necessary to rehab her knee. She never complained once."

Macy has also been an exemplary student and leader on campus. She graduated with a 3.12 in criminal justice, and has been involved in community service efforts such as Kids Night Out and Bowling for Wishes among many other initiatives.

A 2007 graduate of Tewksbury H.S., Macy is the daughter of Doug and Mary Macy of Tewksbury, Mass. Macy has been a Town Crier Female Athlete of the Year and was a finalist for the Town Crier's Female Athlete of the Decade.

•Need some help with the trivia question? Put the pedal to the metal.

•Trinity College women's ice hockey senior defender Laura Komarek (Plymouth, Minn.) was honored with the 2011 Susan E. Martin Award winner as the College's top senior female scholar athlete of the year and as one of two 2011 Robert R. Bartlett Award recipients for her combined excellence in athletics and devotion to community and/or campus service.

Komarek, fellow SENIOR DEFENDER MICHELE BENJAMIN (READING, MASS.), SENIOR FORWARD SARAH KOHN (WINCHES- TER, MASS.), junior defender Julie Pesta (Oxford, Pa.), sophomore defender Britney Ryan (Highlands Ranch, Colo.), and sophomore forward Chelsea Campbell (Surrey, British Columbia) were also selected to the New England Small College Athletic Conference (NESCAC) Winter All-Academic Team. Senior tri-captain defender Alexa Guglielmi (Rocky Hill, Conn.) was chosen to represent Trinity women's ice hockey on the NESCAC Winter All-Sportsmanship Team. In addition, Komarek received an NCAA certificate in June as Trinity's nominee for the NCAA Women of the Year Award. Each student-athlete selected to the NESCAC All-Academic Team must be a junior or a senior starter or key reserve for a varsity team and maintain at least a 3.35 grade-point average. Benjamin and Komarek are each two-time, NESCAC All-Academic selections.

Trinity, coached by Andrew McPhee (9th Season), finished with an 18-4-4 record, and advanced to the NESCAC Championship Tournament for the sixth time and the fifth year in a row. The Bantams defeated Hamilton, 3-1, in the NESCAC Quarterfinals but lost, 4-3, in overtime against Amherst at Middlebury in the NESCAC Semifinals.

Benjamin, the College's salutatorian this spring, appeared in 19 games on the Bantam back line in 2010-11. She completed her Bantam career with one goal and 10 assists in 70 games. A graduate of Reading Memorial High School, Benjamin graduated from Trinity in May with a degree in mathematics. She is the daughter of Nancy and Roy Benjamin.

Kohn had four goals and three assists for seven points in 20 games this winter, and completed her Bantam career with 16 goals and 22 helpers for 38 points in 97 games. An alum of the Rivers School, Kohn graduated in May with a degree in economics. She is the daughter of Cynthia and Rick Kohn.

McConnell

have gotten faster," McConnell stated, "but, that's only because I haven't reached my peak as a Master yet."

It generally takes several years to get a sprinter's fast-twitch muscles firing on all cylinders. Once that happens, Masters' times plateau and then drop off. McConnell's goal at that point will be to try to decrease at a slower rate than others his age group. And, more importantly, not to get injured, which is one of the biggest threats to a Master athlete's career.

McConnell, a former Reading High School Class and state champion and an All-East, Northeastern University record holder, started sprinting competitively again in 2008 after taking a twenty-eight year hiatus.

"I actually left the sport for about 28 years," said McConnell. "But, when my son started competing five years ago, I was inspired my watching him compete and it got my competitive juices flowing again. Not being a distance runner, I wished there were track events for sprinters. After reading an article about Bill Collins (world recorder in many Masters sprint events), I learned there is a whole organization devoted to Masters Track. It was then that I started training and competing in sprint events for the first time in almost 30 years."

"I am driven to compete because I am continuing to learn about training and love pushing the capabilities of what my body can do. I enjoy challenging the preconceived notions of aging, where we have been led to believe that as you age you cannot push your body to these limits."

"Our workouts are very very high intensity and I get an inner sense of pride when I do something that very few people my age will even attempt."

In 2009 he joined the Greater Boston Track Club and switched coaches and began being coached by David Callum the sprint coach for the GBTC. For several years he ran for Greater Boston winning gold medals in the RI Senior Games and the MA Senior Games as well as the Master's 100m and 200m in last year's Bay-State Games.

In 2010, he attained All-

American status as designated by the USATF, in both the 60m and 200m dashes. In early 2011 he switched his red GBTC singlet for the red singlet of the Mass Velocity Track Club whose members are only Masters Athletes and mostly sprinters.

"Their tag line is, 'Not Far, Just Fast', which says it all for me," McConnell said.

McConnell, like most master athletes, only runs part time due to his career. McConnell is the CEO of Essex Investment Management Company, LLC, a Boston-based money management firm.

"Finding the time to train is a challenge," McConnell stated, "my job keeps me busy 24/7, but the benefits I get from improved fitness and stamina levels are worth every minute of practice."

McConnell hopes to compete at more Senior Games in the future.

"I love competing at the national level," said McConnell. "The people you meet are truly exceptional and the quality of competition is amazing. The goal of training and competing is to stay healthy. As you age, it is not just how fast you run, but to run fast and stay healthy."

The Mass Velocity Track Club is built around Master Sprinters from throughout New England and the Northeast. Friends of Mass Velocity belong to other running clubs and some are unattached but we all share camaraderie as sprinters in particular and track & field in general.

through windows on the front and sides, plus two large skylights.

An eating bar bounds the kitchen, which is otherwise open to the dining and living rooms. Cupboards and counters are in generous supply. Counters wrap around four sides of the kitchen, while another long counter and cabinets are right across the hallway from a roomy step-in pantry.

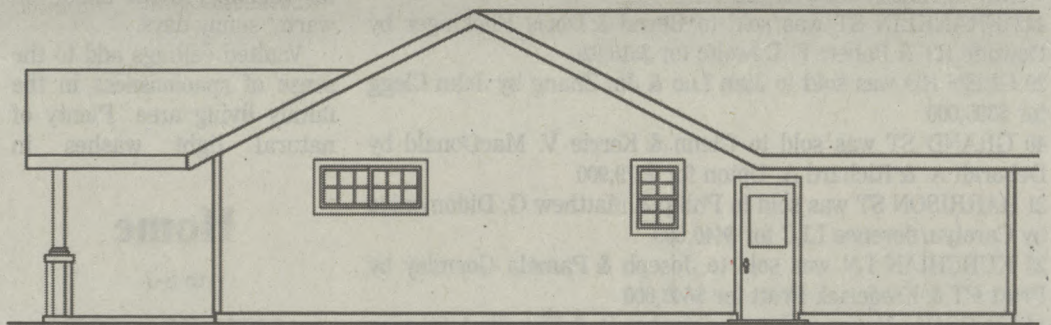

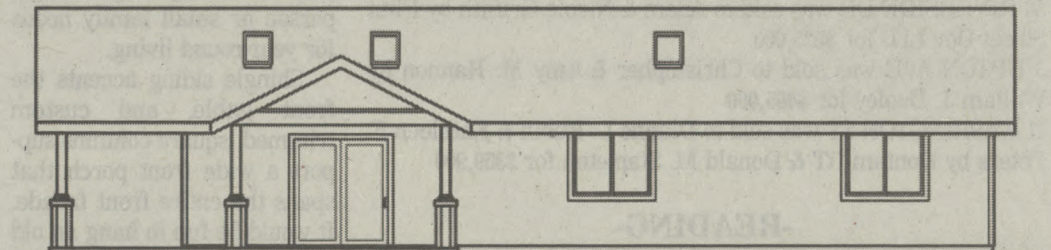

Laundry appliances are nearby, in a passthrough utility room. Linked to the garage, this area doubles as a mud room or pet sleeping area. It comes complete with a deep sink, handy for washing up after working in the garden or garage. Attic space over the garage is accessible via a pull-down ladder.

The laundry room, along with a skylit bathroom, is accessible from the bedroom hallway as well as the kitchen and garage.

Spanning the rear, the Branell's owners' suite boasts a huge walk-in closet, plus a bathroom with an oversized shower. The second bedroom also has plenty of closet space.

This Week's Sampler the Branell

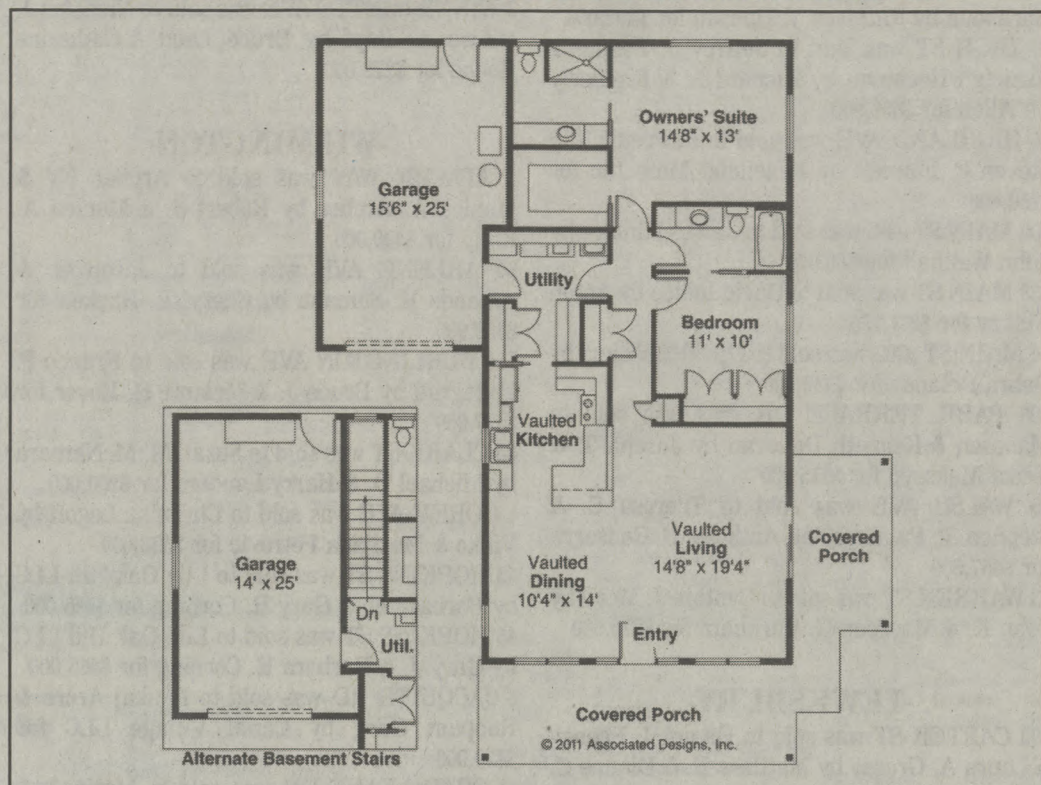

Branell ideal for vacation or all year long

Multipaned windows sparkle across the front of the Branell, a single-level, ranch-style home that makes an inviting beach house or vacation cabin. But there's no need to limit it to those uses. This plan has everything a single person or small family needs for year-round living.

Shingle siding accents the front gable, and custom trimmed, square columns support a wide front porch that spans the entire front facade. It would be fun to hang an old fashioned wooden swing at one end or the other, or outfit the porch with patio furniture for relaxing in the shade on warm, sunny days.

Vaulted ceilings add to the sense of spaciousness in the family living area. Plenty of natural light washes in
